PEKING-TIENTSIN TRAINS ARE DELAYED AS CHIHLI MOVES TROOPS EASTWARD

Trains And Mails From Mukden Are Halted At Chinchow; Service From Peking Extends No Further Than Shanhaikuan; Japanese Press Backs Government On Policy Of Non-Interference

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, September 14.—Trains on the Peking-Tientsin line were delayed several hours yesterday owing to the transportation eastward of the greater part of the 23rd Division stationed at Langfang.

It is reported that all the trains and mails from Mukden on the Peking-Mukden line are being stopped at Chinchow, while those which have left here for Mukden on the same line have not been carried further than Shanhaikuan.

Tokio, September 14.—Despite the fact that there are now signs of the disturbances in China extending in scope more rapidly than ever public opinion in Japan is laying stress upon the necessity of maintaining the policy of non-interference in China's domestic affairs.

In this connection, the "Jiji" writes. "While the Lincheng incident revealed China's anarchical state and disorder, the present warfare exposes the actual condition of chaos prevailing in that country. China is thus, as it were, seeking of her own accord to run such risks as to incur the intervention by the powers in her internal affairs. It is devoutly hoped that the powers will be strictly cautious of actions that tend to further the chaotic conditions in that country and adhere to their policy of non-interference."

The Tokio "Asahi" says in part:

"The United States has already declared [illegible] interference in China's domestic affairs and there is no doubt that Great Britain will adopt the same attitude. Japan, too, as a result of the recent cabinet meeting, has definitely decided upon a non-interference policy, and all the political parties also are reported to have agreed to the decision of the government. It is to be hoped that with non-interference in view, Japan, Great Britain, the United States, and France will bring about a thorough understanding in order that they may come to a full agreement. It is also to be hoped that the governments and peoples of the powers will entertain no unjust suspicions about the actions of others and be circumspect in speech and conduct."

Peking, Sept. 10.—A Mukden paper received in Peking today announces that Marshal Chang Tso-lin's autumn manoeuvers are to begin on September 25 and that four Mixed Brigades are under orders to proceed to Chinchow. The preliminary arrangements for the manoeuvers are said to have been entrusted to General Chang Hsiao-liang, the Marshal's son.

YEN ANNOUNCES CABINET; MINOR CHANGES MADE

Kao Ling-wei And Huang-fu Only New Members In Peking Government

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 15.—A mandate issued at 4 o'clock this morning appoints the following as the new Cabinet:

Dr. W. W. Yen, Premier and Minister of the Interior.
Dr. Wellington Koo, Minister of Foreign Affairs.
Mr. Wang Keh-ming, Minister of Finance.
General Lu Chin, Minister for War.
Admiral Li Ting-hsin, Minister for the Navy.
Mr. Chang Kuo-kan, Minister of Justice.
Mr. Huang-fu, Minister of Education.
Mr. Kao Ling-wei, Minister of Agriculture and Commerce.
Admiral Wu Yu-lin, Minister of Communications.

The new members consist of Mr. Kao Ling-wei, a former Premier, and Mr. Huang-fu, who, as Minister for Foreign Affairs, in February, 1923, agreed to settle the Gold Francs question on a basis of gold payment.

The members of the recent Cabinet not included are Mr. Cheng Keh and Dr. Wang Chung-hui. The latter's portfolio was only nominal, owing to his absence abroad.

Hand Grenades Save The Day At Liuho Following Sharp Attack By Kiangsu

BY D. J. LEWIS

Liuho, Sept. 15, 6 p.m.—The headquarters of Col. Chang have been moved to a location near the river running through the center of the town. Monday morning at 2 a.m. the Kiangsu forces attacked in force, and very severe fighting continued up to six, and finally stopped at eleven. Col. Chang claims that hand grenades saved the day for the Chekiang forces. Kiangsu brought up on Sunday 2,000 fresh troops which were used in this attack. Chekiang admits 40 wounded and 10 to 20 killed. Several officers from Shanghai were in consultation with Col. Chang and they are doing all possible to rush up additional troops. More than 50 passenger cars and some eight passenger buses were seen rushing up fresh troops which are said to belong to the 3rd battalion from Hangchow.

Kiangsu troops have not to date used hand grenades.

Two thousand Fengtien troops have now arrived in Shanghai and are quartered while awaiting outfit at Kiangwan, according to Col. Chang.

Chekiang still retains possession of Liuho. Two large 75 millimeter guns were being transported by truck to Liuho last night. The road is now guarded by 150 armed native police. Large numbers of refugees were found leaving Shanghai and upon inquiry they all stated that having spent all their available cash, they found that Shanghai was no longer ready to receive them with open arms and they prefer to risk the soldiers rather than starve in Shanghai.

The 6th Mixed Brigade in command of Col. Chang is still bearing the brunt of the attack at Liuho. This particular outfit would welcome orders to advance rather than continue the present defensive tactics. The 3rd battalion was brought up to enable the Chekiang lines to be further extended in the direction of Shanghai and thus prevent the possibility of the road being cut. Chekiang claims that the Kiangsu forces have to transport their men and supplies 60 li from headquarters to the front line while of course Chekiang can bring their supplies right up to the firing line by truck.

I was informed that the first shot of the war was fired by the Chekiang forces under General Chwang Tse-ping at Huangtu and not by Kiangsu forces as generally believed.

When leaving Liuho heavy firing was in progress and the attack expected at nine o'clock had evidently started. The Chekiang forces have been fighting steadily without any relief for 5 days.

FIVE KILLED IN AMOY IN BRUSH WITH BANDITS

Fight Is Staged In One Of The Main Streets Of The City

(China Press Correspondence)

Amoy, Sept 6.—Amoy is in a bad turmoil, as to peace and prosperity and political affairs. On the evening of Augut 29 a fight between robbers and soldiers and civilians took place in one of the principal streets in which five men were killed, two soldiers and two Formosans and one civilian. There does not seem to be any Government except as it relates to the collection of taxes. It is uncertain just who is in charge of the city. The "navy" is supposed to be in control of the city. But who is the Navy and to whom or to what does the "Navy" give allegiance?

On the 2nd inst. the Chinese police went in company with Japanese police to the Formosan Club to make certain arrests. As the officers went inside the door, they were fired on, and the Japanese police quickly gave permission to the Chinese officers to do what they liked. The club building was set on fire and burned to the ground. In the affray, at least two men were killed and the next day another.

On Sunday, August 30, the U. S. S. Sacramento came in, and on September 1, four Japanese destroyers and one submarine came in, so we are well protected, but there is no peace.

In the last few weeks the first rickshas have made their appearance on the new road. They are a good class of vehicle but the fares are rather high.

The Senior Consul, Mr. W. Meyrick Hewlett, C.M.G., H.B.M. Consul, has called, at the request of the Municipal Council, a special meeting of ratepayers for Friday afternoon, September 19, at 5 p.m., to consider a report of the special committee appointed at the last annual meeting to bring in proposals for the improvement of the supply of electric current for the Settlement.

Chekiang Forces Suffer Heaviest Losses So Far In Fighting At Huangtu

Week-End Attempt To Push Down Railroad To Anting Results In Total Of Casualties Estimated At 300; Little Ground Is Gained

BY TALBOT PATRICK

Nanziang, Sept. 15.—The Chekiang army suffered its heaviest losses since the war began in this sector in the fighting over the week-end.

Both last night and the night before, fighting began at dusk and continued to dawn, but it was the struggles of Saturday night and Sunday morning which swamped the stretcher bearers and the Red Cross stations behind the lines. Dead and wounded on a comparatively narrow front totalled about two hundred that night. Last night the figure was nearly half that number.

Saturday night, the southern soldiers attempted to advance both south and north of the railway line. They pushed forward faster to the south of the line until the deadly barrier of the creek a short distance east of Anting and its backing of trenches was reached.

Enfiladed fire from three machine guns to the north rattled sprays of bullets through the darkness and caught men sheltered from fire from the front by field boundaries. Men sagged to the ground in groups and all attempts to silence the guns were unavailing.

As in a previous attempt, it was finally decided that the position was untenable for the time being, and a general retreat was made by the Chekiang soldiers. They were followed by the Kiangsu men who had withdrawn before their advance with a galling rear-guard fire. How many of the attacking force were left behind in the retreat I could obtain no estimate of, but it is certain there were many.

FORTY CAPTURED

As slight offsets to the losses of the night, there remained only about forty enemy soldiers captured in the first advance and a narrow strip of land south of Huangtu station, on the zone between it and Huangtu village on Soochow Creek.

During Sunday, firing was intermittent and the time was spent in resting, issuing more ammunition, etc. Last night, the Chekiang men advanced again, but more slowly and cautiously. They made no powerful bid to reach that deadly canal bank again, but were apparently content with about three li of advance.

Much of this advance was lost again in the early hours this morning, and once again the opposing armies are back again at very nearly their old lines. The only difference is a slight salient in the Chekiang line between Huangtu station and village.

Slightly wounded men who apparently prefer to remain with the fighting forces are more and more in evidence, especially since the fighting of the last two nights. Many men with bullet grazes seem perfectly content to carry on after the wound has been washed with a solution of potassium permanganate and covered with a wrapping.

One hundred and twenty more cases of ammunition came up this this morning and it seems apparent that the Chekiang leaders have no intention of giving up attempts to push west down the

FOREIGNERS ARE WARNED NOT TO TOUR WAR ZONE

Consular Body Requests All Nationals Not To Visit Front

In a notice issued yesterday and signed by all members of the consular body foreign residents of Shanghai are specifically requested to refrain from visiting or attempting to visit the zones of fighting between the Kiangsu and Chekiang armies. The notice reads:

"It has been brought to the notice of the undersigned members of the consular body of Shanghai that certain foreign residents have recently visited the scene of the present hostilities between the provinces of Chekiang and Kiangsu and have even penetrated as far as the firing line.

"The consular body consider this practice highly undesirable and it is regarded with disfavor by the authorities of the contending forces; they therefore request that their nationals will refrain from visiting the zone of the armies in order that inconvenience and complications for all concerned may be avoided."

SPY SCARE IN NANTAO GUARD IS FIRED UPON

Search Of Bund Is Ordered By Military Authorities As Shots Are Heard

Two soldiers who were on guard at the entrance to the barracks of the 2nd battalion in Nantao were fired upon late Saturday night, according to reports appearing in the Chinese press. The soldiers returned the fire of their attacker, but he escaped.

Shortly afterwards, shots were reported to have been heard from behind the Arsenal, but the guards on duty there were unable to find any trace of those who fired them.

As a result of the occurrence, constabulary made a search of the beggar quarters along the Nantao Bund and questioned suspicious characters.

The Chinese press also reports that Ma Feng-piao has been taken into custody by the constabulary in Chapei on a charge of recruiting forces for the Kiangsu armies. It is said he has been taken to Lunghwa for questioning.

The death sentence is said to have been carried out yesterday on a deserter from the Chekiang army who was taken into custody by the constabulary on a charge of attempting to extort money from farmers in the vicinity of Chapei under the pretext that he was conscripting labor for the army. Following the man's arrest, Col Lu Yung-chien, chief of the Woosung and Shanghai Constabulary and chief magistrate for the enforcement of matrial law in the Shanghai district, ordered that he be executed, and this sentence having met with the approval of General Ho Feng-lin, it was carried out on the Nantao Bund.

Volunteers Partly Demobilized; Strict Watch Maintained

Orders which became effective Sunday morning release from continuous active service members of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps, who were mobilised last Tuesday morning and had been standing by since.

Under the new plan, each company in the corps is supplying a detail of five men continuously the remaining members of the corps holding themselves in readiness for complete mobilisation as circumstances warrant.

CHANG TSO-LIN ASSAULTS CHAOYANG AND FUSHIN; TUAN ENDORSES CHEKIANG

Kiangsu Still Holds Ishing Despite Severe Bombardment; Huangtu Sector Quiet; Heavy Casualties Result From All-Day Fighting On Liuho Front; Impersonator Is Executed

The developments in the war situation yesterday:

Chang Tso-lin's forces are heavily bombarding Chaoyang on the Jehol-Manchurian border, according to a telegram sent by Marshal Chang Tso-lin to General Ho Feng-lin of Shanghai yesterday.

The most serious fighting yet witnessed in Liuho was staged on Sunday and yesterday.

Marshall Tuan Chi-jui the old Anfu leader yesterday issued a lengthy telegram through the Lunghua Military Headquarters, condemning the Peking Government and casting his lot definitely with Chekiang and Mukden.

Comparative quiet reigns in the Huangtu sector.

Kiangsu is hanging on to Ishing despite heavy gun fire directed on the city.

General Ho received the following telegram from Marshal Chang Tso-lin yesterday afternoon:

"According to a telegram from General Li Ching-lin, in command of our first army, under date of the 15th, firing upon the city of Chaoyang started on the morning of the 15th and serious fighting is now going on. We also assaulted Fuhsin last night. The situation is favorable. Details of the clash will follow."

Sunday, the Lunghua Yamen also received the following telegram from General Chang Tso-lin:

"Our first and second armies advanced upon Shanhaikwan on the 13th and there was some skirmishing between the scouting vanguards. Communications along the Peking-Mukden Railway have been cut and a clash is expected in a day or so. The second army is closing upon the Jehol border. The occupation of Chaoyang is expected shortly."

Both sides sustained serious casualties in yesterday's combat at Liuho. At three o'clock yesterday morning the Kiangsu troops assaulted with heavy guns and the Chekiang occupants responded with similar severity. Fighting continued throughout the day almost unceasingly.

Marshal Tuan Chi-jui's circular which was reported here for several days was officially made public yesterday by General Ho Feng-lin.

A translation of the text of the telegram follows:

"In reading the circular telegrams made by General Lu Yung-hsiang and Marshal Chang Tso-lin, one can not but feel distressed over the deplorable political situation and the sufferance of the multitude under such a regime. Both were anxious to save the situation with all might and main. Such spirit should be encouraged.

"The politics of today is a subject which one's eyes do not wish to see and one's ears do not wish to hear. The highest office has been used for a market of corruption while the power of administration is an object of bartering. The status of the nation and the position of the people are absolutely ignored. Rites, faith, thrift and shame are unknown qualities. The high-ups continue their oppression without trying any means of constructive endeavor.

"The undesirables and degenerates hold the helm of the ship of state, stealing the wealth of the nation to swell their pockets. While their gains could be calculated by the hundreds and thousands, the loss to the nation amounts to millions and millions. They would feign to do so at the expense of the people. The settlement of the German Bonds is but one of the examples we have under observation.

"Large forces are maintained for the protection of private interests. The nation is in serious predicament. The people are poor. Industrious men may work day and night at the risk of losing their homes. The soldier and the police may brave the storm and fight the severe weather without getting enough for food and clothing.

"In the administration of a nation, one should not be afraid of shortage of supplies, but one should avoid the lack of even distribution of wealth. When the officials, high and low, are struggling for money, it is natural that a state of financial stringency should alway exists and there is absolutely no hope for carrying out of obligations towards national creditors.

"The name of the country is spoiled. Foreign protests are continuously lodged. The adoption of a militaristic policy has rendered southern China a land

H. D. Rodger Hurt While Diving In French Club Tank

Mr. H. D. Rodger, the local attorney and sportsman, was painfully injured Sunday morning in an accident in the French Club's new swimming pool. Mr. Rodger, who was doing a fancy dive from the high platform, slipped on the wet flooring just as he was taking off and, unable to straighten out in the air, crashed head first into the side of the tank. The water broke the force of the impact to some extent so that Mr. Rodger was not rendered wholly unconscious but only stunned. He was taken from the water bleeding profusely from nose, ears and mouth, as well as from the jagged gash in his head.

He was rushed immediately to his home on Bubbling Well road where Dr. W. E. O'Hara was called in. It was necessary to administer a general anesthetic before the cut could be sewed up and while a preliminary examination did not reveal a fracture of the skull it was learned that an X-ray will be taken today in order to determine if there is any injury to the skull.

Mr. Rodger was resting comfortably last night and was able to laugh and joke with friends about his "header." This is the second accident which has befallen him within three months, his polo pony having thrown him in June, causing him to break several bones in his right hand.

Japanese Sending Additional Force To Guard Shanghai

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Sasebo, Sept. 15.—The defence-ship Tsushima left Sasebo for Shanghai this morning for the protection of Japanese residents.

According to the Shanghai Nippo, the Tsushima, is bringing to Shanghai 150 additional Japanese marines, which will bring the total of Japanese marines in Shanghai up to 550. The Tsushima is intended to replace the Japanese cruiser Tatsuta, which is now here, but which is scheduled to leave for Japan on Wednesday or Thursday in order to participate in the autumn naval maneuvers.

The Shanghai Nippo also reports that following rumors of looting and outlawry in Chinkiang, the Japanese Gunboat Hozu, newly arrived here from Japan, has been sent to Chinkiang for the protection of Japanese interests in Chinkiang and Soochow.

of devastation, while the untimely rainfall has caused disasters in Central China. The government should have worked for construction and give the people a chance to rest and recuperate. Yet it ordered four provinces to attack Chekiang, because its political principles happened to be different.

"For the sake of the glory of one person, the innocent is penalised and the greatest crime that Heaven could conceive is committed. How can such a wrongful movement succeed? When oppression is exercised with excess, reaction follows. We are duty bound to pacify the people by punishing the wicked.

"We fully realise the fact that those who are serving under these traitors are either forced to work for them through fear of autocracy, or dragged into the service through the want of a livelihood. But these ungrateful intriguing individuals will sell their best friends for their own private gains. All should therefore take this opportune time to rise against them and rid the nation of its usurpers."

Latest reports received at the Lunghua Yamen from General Chen Yao-san, the commander in chief of the Taiho troops, indicate that Ishing is still in the hands of the Kiangsu troops, although Chekiang men are tearing through the walls of the city rapidly. Unceasing firing on the city has continued for two days and nights, General Chen says.

General Chen also reports on the sudden withdrawal of three of the battalions under General Yang Chung-pu of the Kiangsu forces from Ishing, because the three Majors, Lo Ling, Kan Ju-hu and Tai Tsing-tsai, declared in the battlefields that they endorsed the Chekiang cause.

For impersonating a member of the press gang, Wu Yuan-ping, who was also a deserter, was executed at the Nantao Bund on Sunday afternoon. His accomplices are being imprisoned pending the recovery from their wounds. Wu and four others were caught trying to arrest coolies in Chapei and extort money from them, but were hotly chased by an angry mob when police took them into custody.

Two airplanes of the Chekiang Air Squadron were despatched to the Ishing front under the personal direction of Major Tsu, in command of the squadron.

A coolie employed by the Kiangnan Arsenal was shot by mistake on Saturday by the guard on duty. The authorities have given $200 to the family of the victim by way of compensation.

Chekiang Attack At Ishing Is Repulsed, Claim Of Kiangsu

BY LANSING HOYT
Special Correspondent of THE CHINA PRESS with the Chekiang forces

Quinsan, Sept. 13.—Advices received by the Kiangsu general headquarters assert that the Chekiang attack at Ishing has been repulsed and that the arrival of Kiangsu reinforcements has enabled Tuchun Chi's men to make a heavy counter-attack in which they captured seventy men and six officers.

The situation in the western sector now, according to reports received here, favors Kiangsu, owing to the rapid transport of troops from Changchow. Kiangsu's plans for a general drive are said to be developing now.

Secretary Of State For India Sues In British Court Here

FLAG OF BRITISH CONSULATE HERE TAKEN BY INDIAN

Union Jack Appropriated; Man Thought To Be Unbalanced

An Indian by name of Foraz Khan helped himself to the big Union Jack at the British Consulate on Sunday when the flag was hung up to dry on the wall near the Yuen Ming Yuen Road entrance. The man rolled the flag up, took it under his arm, and was strolling off with it when a Consulate watchman saw him, hollered for a policeman, and accompanied the two to the Central Police Station. The arrested man gave his name as Foraz Khan, and declared himself to be an Indian, a British subject, and a well-wisher of the British Government. He seemed to be somewhat deficient mentally.

The Indian appeared in the British Police Court yesterday morning, before Magistrate King, charged with larceny. The Chinese watchman told his story, then the accused, who denied having stolen the flag and said he had picked it up on the road.

Detective-Sergeant Forkin then took the stand. He had examined the accused at the Police Station, where the man appeared to treat the whole matter as a joke. He had talked ramblingly about a launch he had in the Whangpoo which was short of a flag, and for which he had taken the Consulate colors. Sergeant Forkin also said that Foraz had been at the Central Station last Friday afternoon, and had tried to get into Captain Barrett's office, being thrown out twice. He said he was out of a job, and wanted a post as sergeant-major here. It appeared he had been on the Hongkong police force for two years. He now had no passport and no money, and it was not known how he come to Shanghai.

The Court adjourned the case two days for further inquiries, remanding the accused in custody. He is to be examined by a physician to determine his mental condition.

Two Convictions For Highway Robbery Of Japanese Captain

Two more men were yesterday found guilty in the Mixed Court here in connection with the highway robbery of May 26 on Point Road, in which Captain Echigo of the Japanese steamship Echigo Maru was attacked by four men and robbed.

Two men named Loh and Fung, the latter being the ricsha coolie who pulled the Japanese to the place where the others held him up and robbed him, have already been sentenced to nine months' imprisonment in connection with the affair, and yesterday appeared in Court as witnesses against the two arrested last week, Tsing and Sian.

Mr. Whitamore, British Assessor, and Magistrate Li, presided in Court yesterday, when both the accused were convicted, the second being sentenced to nine months' imprisonment with expulsion from the Settlement at the end of it. The first man, Tsiang Myi Mo-tz, has had seven previous convictions, and is being held on another charge in addition to that of highway robbery. He was remanded until next Monday for sentence.

Nanking Notes

Nanking, Sept. 12.—The following report is issued by the Intelligance Committee here:

Two American destroyers, the U.S.S. Sicar and the U.S.S. Ford are due to arrive at Nanking this evening. The U.S.S. Pigeon is still in port and will remain here. The U.S.S. Penguin which has been here since the commencement of hostilities proceeded to Shanghai today but is expected to return the first of next week.

An American destroyer is also due to arrive at Chinkiang this afternoon and will be stationed there to protect American interests at that port.

Most of today's official communique describes the fighting in the Ishing sector. A Chekiang attack was repelled on the early morning of the 11th Kiangsu troops then took the offensive and occupied Ta-hsiang and other villages south of the Lan Mountain. 3 Chekiang officers and 50 men were captured, also one field gun 4 machine guns and 10,100 rounds of ammunition.

On the night of the 10th, the [illegible] attacked from 3 directions at Min Yang Pass. On the morning of the 11th, Kiangsu forces counterattacked and are driving enemy troops down the mountain. Many have been killed and wounded.

Fighting continues on the Liuho and Huangtu fronts.

At the request of the civil authorities a delegation under auspices of the American Red Cross are planning to go to the front for work among civilians in the affected areas. The first delegation are of Americans Dr. W. H. Stuart and Rev. Frank W. Price and of Chinese, Revs. G. S. Hsia, Sen Yu Hsu, and Messrs. Lo Sz-ching and Ho Ts-tsen. These will leave on an investigating tour as soon as passes and other details can be arranged. Mr. Sam. Mills will proceed to Shanghai to take up with the National Christian Council and American Red Cross their carrying on similar work on the other side of the fighting lines.

A gentleman just in from Soochow reports that the missionaries there were given their choice as to whether they should leave or not, and they elected to stay at their posts. The Soochow University has proposed that their plant be made a center for all in case of danger. They are being well guarded by Chinese soldiers.

TWO MEN PUT ON TRIAL FOR MURDERS HERE

Chinese Turned Over By French Police Charged With Killings

Two Chinese appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday charged with murder. The first case was in connection with a killing on Yihwang Road on July 19, when one Tsiang San was called out of his house and shot dead by a man armed with a revolver. The present accused, Sian Tsoong-yang, was arrested by the French Police in connection with another murder case, but was not found guilty of the crime there, though he was ordered deported from the Concession as an undesirable.

Sian appeared before Mr. Whitamore, British Assessor, and Magistrate Li yesterday. D. S. Knight asked for a remand for one week to permit further inquiries to be made, and this was granted by the Court.

The second murder charge was against Yui Kyu-hsien, also arrested by the French Police and turned over to the Settlement authorities by them. The charge is of participating, with others, in the murder of an unknown man at 453 Yunnan Road on the night of April 20. Yui had occupied a room in the same house, and disappeared after the murder.

D. S. Tabrum outlined the case in Court, and asked for a remand, as the accused man is said to be connected with other murders. The remand was ordered.

Peking-Tientsin R. R. Delayed As Troops Are Moved

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 10.—Reuter's Agency has been requested by the Chinese Government to state that there is no truth in the report that Chihli troops have been moved to Shanhaikwan, Hsifengkow and other places in the north and that since the fighting in 1922 there has not been any movement of Government troops in Chihli and the neighboring provinces.

The report that the Peking-Mukden railway inside Shanhaikwan was interrupted yesterday morning on account of the transportation of troops also is stated to be untrue.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, Sept. 15.—The troops of Marshal Wu Pei-fu continue to move from Paotingfu to Shanhaikuan. They are fully equipped with artillery and aeroplanes, while a Tientsin firm has received instructions to manufacture gas masks.

It is reliably reported that the railway is cut on the Manchuria side of the Great Wall in order to prevent invasion by the Chihlilites.

All foreigners are returning from Peitaiho, and it is believed that hostilities may commence at any moment.

The Mukden reports of firing at Shanhaikuan are untrue.

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, Sept. 15.—The report that the 4th Mixed Brigade of Hupeh will be sent to Pukow has been confirmed. On the 14th instant they were being transported by the Chinese Merchant's steamer Kianghsun and the steamer will pick up those of the 3rd Brigade detached at Huangchow on the way. The Mixed Brigade will be personally commanded by Major General Liu Tso-lung.

Peking, Sept. 15.—This morning the Presidency for the third time wired to Marshal Wu Pei-fu, asking him to come up to Peking. It is not known whether Marshal Wu Pei-fu will come to Peking or not but the Presidency has prepared a house for the residence of Marshal Wu while he is in Peking.

News Brevities

The Civic Department of the American Woman's Club desires to thank those members of the Club as well as the general public for their hearty response to its request for literature for the American marines and sailors that are now in port, as well as the American troop of the S.V.C. These magazines have been distributed to the best possible advantage and we have received appreciative messages from those to whom they were alloted. Occasion is also taken to express our thanks to those who so generously responded to the call for old clothing which has in turn been sent to Dr. New at the Chinese Red Cross General Hospital for the wounded soldiers now under his care.

In the British Court yesterday, before Mr. G. W. King, Mrs. Myrtle E. Quelch obtained judgment from Mr. Henry Quelch for Tls. 3,784, the equivalent of G.$2,800 due her on fourteen accounts, from August, 1923 to September, 1924 inclusive. Mr. Quelch said he understood that the plaintiff had re-married, in which case he was not responsible for the payment of the sum. Mr. M. Reader Harris, counsel for the plaintiff, said that Mrs. Quelch had not remarried, and that the sum was due, which statement was accepted by the defendant. Judgment was accordingly entered for the amount claimed, costs to be borne by the defendant.

The body of a male Chinese was found in the ricsha shelter on the Bund opposite the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank Sunday morning. The man, who was apparently a countryman and who is believed to have fled into the Settlement to escape the war, had evidently died during the night. There were no evidences of foul play. The body was removed to the Mortuary.

The operation of a taxi-cab or motor-hire service has become a most exciting and hazardous enterprise since the opening of the war between Kiangsu and Chekiang Provinces. When the fighting first started, the military officers in areas outside the foreign settlements did not hesitate to commandeed hire-cars for military use whenever a car was needed and one happened to be available. The worst problem has been in connection with the operation of cars on the Liuho Road, where cars have been greatly needed for service in transporting wounded soldiers to Shanghai hospitals. Practically every car found on the road, foreign or otherwise, has been pressed into service for the transport of wounded soldiers. As a result of this it has been practically impossible to induce garages located inside the settlements to rent cars for trips to Liuho. The Park Garage located on North Szechuen Road, Mr. G. Nyland, Manager, has been supplying cars for the use of the correspondent of THE CHINA PRESS in making daily trips to the Liuho front.

Owing to almost all the Jewish residents of Nagasaki having left the colony in recent years, the question of the Synagogue Beth-El erected at Nagasaki presented quite a problem by the ex-members of that community in Shanghai. At a meeting held by the latter last year, it was decided to empower the Shanghai Zionist Association and the Ohel-Moishe Synagogue to dispose of the sacred edifice in the best manner possible. The Kencho office at Nagasaki has informed the local Zionist Association that the sale of the property was effected by auction, realising Y.2,610.00 and Mr. N. E. B. Ezra who represented the latter has received a cheque for the amount from the local Japanese Consulate through whom the remittance was made. It is believed that the property was purchased by the Japanese Government.

Merchants and shippers having goods to transport from China to Manchuria and Mongolia will be cheered by the announcement of the Ussuri Railway that traffic on its lines is uninterrupted and perfectly safe. Officials of the Ussuri railway declare that it is the only safe route for the transportation of goods during the present war in China. They also claim that their rates are cheapest, customs duty being 33-1/3 percent less than that paid on the same goods shipped via Dairen. The railroad's commercial agency meets all arriving steamers at Vladivistok and reships goods from steamers into railway cars without any delay. Thereafter the route is direct from Vladivostok to Harbin and other stations in Manchuria. Custom examination is made at Harbin.

Chekiang Forces Suffer Heaviest Losses In Huangtu

railroad line. Today two more of the mountain guns so easily transported in sections were brought up. They came from Lunghwa and about seventy artillerymen and infantrymen accompanied them. A hundred and seventy men of the same outfit, the 2nd Battalion of the 6th Mixed Brigade, were sent with several machine guns to Liuho.

ATTACK AT LIUHO

Reports from that town are that this morning the situation was critical for the Chekiang forces, which were nearly driven from the town and now are in danger of being outflanked by a force going between the town and the Yangtsze and of being surrounded.

There is a strong probability of attacks tonight by the Chekiang detachments in the sector between Huangtu village and Kiating in an attempt to lighten the pressure against Liuho. A number of cars, including several armored cars, were running today between Nanziang station and Kiating and interlying points. For a time the armored cars were running out from the station with firewood and other supplies, but they are available to make the troops between Kiating and Nanziang far more mobile and to rush up ammunition.

The Russians I have previously mentioned were busy all day putting in shape the motors brought up on the railroad, while those they had in running order were driven by Chinese.

Firing during the day has been steady, although at long range. The field and mountain guns have taken a large share in it.

Two Chinese Hurt As House Collapses

Two Chinese, who had been papering the walls in a Chinese house at 577 Kwangse Road, were injured Sunday morning when the rear portion of the house collapsed and buried them under the debris. The house was being repaired at the time and was unoccupied. Police of the Louza station were called to the scene, as was the fire brigade. The police, however, managed to rescue the two men before the fire brigade arrived, and they were taken to Shantung Road Hospital, where it was said that their injuries were not serious.

Pure Milk in Warm Weather

Warm weather does not affect the purity of Carnation Milk. It keeps indefinitely in the tin until opened and stays fresh and sweet for several days afterwards.

Think of the economy of a milk supply that will not spoil or turn sour on the hottest day. Carnation does this because it is hermetically sealed and sterilized to make it absolutely safe for the table.

Carnation Milk is simply fresh, full-cream milk from the finest dairy herds, with part of its water evaporated. Nothing is added to sweeten or preserve it.

Order Carnation Milk today and begin to enjoy its quality, convenience and economy.

Remember that dealers make a larger profit on other brands. Insist that you be supplied with Carnation.

NEVSKY TO MEET AMERICAN WELTER HERE THURSDAY

Flores To Fight Dublin Boy In Third Prelim; Davies' Record

The full program for Thursday night's fight card at the Carlton has now been decided on. The special event will be between Cyclone Nevsky and an American, a 'Frisco boy by name of Charlie Mack. Mack is a boxer who comes here with a good reputation in both California and Australia. He weighs in at 142 pounds, and will probably enter the ring a little heavier than the Russian lad. If Mack is as good as his reputation Nevsky will have to go some to lick him, but the Russian has guts and aggressivess and can be depended on to take care of himself.

Nevsky is after something hard, and is just aching for a chance to show his stuff again, and the training he has been doing recently should have given him back some of the confidence he lost when he learned that it wasn't proper to grab a man by the back of the neck with one hand and plug him in the mush with the other,—the cave-man tactics which come most natural to this son of the Scythians.

DUBLIN BANTAN HERE

The third event also promises well. Felipe Flores has been matched to go six rounds with a newcomer by name of Tave Workman, a Dublin lad who has fought his way half-way around the world and is anxious to meet some of the fighters Shanghai has to offer. Flores is in fine shape, as he showed by his battle with Benny Forral two weeks ago, when in the opinion of many he got a shade the best of it, the decision being a draw. Workman will weigh in at about 117 pounds, so Flores should have a couple of pounds on him. If the Dublin lad is as good as his reputation, and lives up to the traditions of his home town, Flores will sure need his couple of extra pounds.

The two preliminaries, between Georgie Xavier and Young Freddie and Ma Ching and Ma Jong respectively, remain on the program unchanged.

DAVIES AND VOLAIRE

The main event, between Taff Davies and Young Volaire, as announced Sunday, also remains. Volaire is training hard for this, and it should be some fight. Davies has already done some fighting in the Far East, and won from Battling Kay and Eddie Grady in Singapore, getting decisions from both of them in twelve-round battles. His fight with Chadwick, however, with whom he battled fifteen rounds to a draw in Hongkong, is said to have been the greatest fight ever staged there. Chadwick will be remembered as the boy who put up such splendid exhibitions here in Shanghai, particularly in his fights with Billy Tingle and Matty Smith. Taff Davies' fight with Chadwick showed him to be every bit his equal, and his previous record indicates that he may be better.

New Zealand Team Beats Devon County; South Africans Draw

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 13.—At Devonport today the New Zealand "All Black" Rugby Football Team opened its tour by beating Devon Country 11 points to 0.

Twenty thousand persons watched the game. The "All Blacks" do not appear to compare with the 1905 side, which won a similar match by 55 points to 8. Devon County did remarkably well against the highly-trained and very fit New Zealanders. There was no score in the first half-hour. The "All Blacks" led at the interval, 8 points to 0. Their backs were fast and clever but they had difficulty with their seven-forward scrum formation.

(Reuter's Service)

Port Elizabeth, September 13.—The third Rugby Football Test Match between Britain and South Africa today resulted in a draw, each side scoring 3 points.

The fourth test match will be played on September 20.

U. S. Golfers Win From Britain And Retain Walker Cup

(Reuter's American Service)

New York, Sept. 13.—The United States today beat Britain by 6 matches to 2 in the singles, and thus retains the Walker Amateur Golf Cup by 9 points to 3, having yesterday defeated Britain by 3 matches to 1 in the foursomes.

FIFTH EVENT FOR GRAND HANDICAP CUP WON BY LONG

Final Shoot For Cup To Be Held Saturday; Fifty Targets

The International Gun Club's shoot on Sunday afternoon was held as scheduled in spite of the rain. This was the fifth event in the Grand Handicap Cup competition, and R. Long was an easy winner. The highest gross score was made by L. Cattapan, with 27 out of the 30 targets.

The results were as follows:

	Score	H'Cap	Total
R. Long	22	14.00	36.00
F. O. Madar .	24	9.60	33.60

Mr. Samuel V. S. Shen, secretary to Mr. Kao Erh Hung, Governor of Tsingtao, and formerly Minister of Communications who is on a brief visit to Shanghai, was the guest of the Y's Men's Club at it regular weekly tiffin yesterday at the Carlton Cafe, Mr. W. Yinson Lee, president, occupying the chair.

Mr. Shen spoke upon the existing social conditions in Tsingtao, which he says is showing much improvement. The development of the port is proceeding apace and trade is rapidly growing.

U. S. Polo Players Defeat England In First Of Matches

(Reuter's American Service)

Meadow Brook, Sept. 13.—America defeated England today in the polo match by 16 to 5.

The Prince of Wales was present at the match. The Americans led throughout and overwhelmingly demonstrated their superiority. The British players were ineffective, apart from Mr. Lacey, the captain, who was outstandingly brilliant. He scored four of the five British goals notwithstanding the fact that he was handicapped by an injured shoulder.

(Reuter's American Service)

New York, Sept. 13.—Considerable surprise has been manifested in polo circles by the unexpected departure, on the eve of the first match, of Viscount Wimborne, who boarded the Olympic at midnight and sailed at 5 o'clock in the morning. When questioned, the Viscount replied that he had nothing to say.

League Urged To Halt Further Sale Of Arms To China

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 15.—The Daily Telegraph, referring to the reported arming of the conflicting Chinese forces by different Powers with political motives co-mingled with commercial considerations, urges the League of Nations immediately to attend to this matter and to endeavor to seek the termination of these abuses by requesting all Governments to veto the sale of armaments in China just now.

Nightly Bombardments Staged By Kiangsu To Break Chekiang Morale

BY LANSING HOYT
Special Correspondent of THE CHINA PRESS with the Chekiang forces

Quinsan, Sept. 13 (A.M.)—I spent considerable time last night between Anting Station and the Kiangsu line this side of the creek near Huangtu Station.

A bombardment of the Chekiang lines in this sector has been carried on fiercely during the last two nights. The shelling and machine gun fire starts at 7 p.m. and continues without a moment's interruption until sunrise. During the day all is quiet, however, as far as one can see or hear from the railway. No attempt is being made at present to attack in the direction of Huangtu Station. A harassing fire by night without interruption, is counted on by the Kiangsu field commanders to shake the morale of the enemy and to prevent food and ammunition from reaching Chekiang's front regularly.

The report now current at field G. H. Q. is that Huangtu will not be taken by direct attack as this might lead to unfortunate rumors in Shanghai as regards Marshal Chi's military plans. Marshal Chi it may be said here on the highest authority, is giving every consideration to foreigners. His instructions are that under no circumstances is the neutral zone surrounding Shanghai to be violated. In order to placate foreign feeling in Shanghai, a plan is now developing by which Kiangsu will gradually curve its Eastern front around Huangtu by exerting pressure 30 or 40 li on either side of the railway. When this movement on the flanks is accomplished it will be possible to bring into position sufficient artillery to force a Chekiang retirement in the Shanghai sector by means of enfilading fire, that is, by firing across the enemy terrain from north and south.

General Head Quarters, Quinsan, September 13, P.M.—It has been decided to intern two Japanese and the Russian who were captured within the lines the other day. The absence of military insignia and badges of any kind, placed these foreigners in an unenviable position. I have it from the Kiangsu judge advocate general, however, that imprisonment for the duration of the war is the penalty imposed. Authorities here are doing everything within their power to conciliate foreign opinion. This is evidence of it. Both the Russian and the Japanese refused to talk when questioned by the China Press correspondent.

(The two Japanese here referred to probably are the Japanese newspaper men who have been reported missing since September 3).

Beyond Anting on the Shanghai-Nanking Railway, September 13—Midnight—I am entirely too close to the show at this point to have much of a perspective. There is a constant rattle of machine gun and rifle fire ahead going from and not toward our side, thank goodness. I am in no danger lying low on the railroad bed because even if Chekiang did let loose it is not likely that rifle or machine gun fire would reach this point. Two hours ago when it was raining, three enemy shells landed with a sucking sound several hundred yards away. They must have been timed for five miles and only went three. The soft ooze of the paddy fields where they landed could not have shocked these "birds" very much because they did not explode.

Against the clouds the flashes of the guns are most perfect. It looks like sheet lightning for twenty miles on either side of this track. Chekiang does not reply and I asked my guide why they didn't and he informed me in his broken English that "Kiangsu had plenty ammunition and must make afraid." Evidently Chekiang was sitting tight and saving theirs. While it appears strange that during the night no attempt has been made to go forward under this covering fire yet I begin to "get" the psychology of the Chinese as regards gun fire. When I can't sleep even a mile back of the first line, the poor beggars in the Chekiang army must feel rather restless being prodded with enemy shells. This is what the Kiangsu gunners are out to do, scare the life out of the other fellow if they can. Of course they must be producing casualties on the Chekiang side, because I fail to see how trenches of consequence could be dug in the muck on either side of this railway. The grave mounds help a bit and here and there a brick wall may be of service but some of the enemy must be taking a good dose of it. Last night Kiangsu fired steadily from 7 p.m. to 4 a.m. and now tonight a repeat order has been given.

"VICTORY" AND PINHEADS'

I am not going to stay any longer out here—not because I expect to interview a few "brass hats" in the morning. I don't see any of them hereabouts but then of course they may be ordering up cigarettes, etc. from the back areas.

It's most prophetic perhaps that all privates in the vicinity of Anting smoke "Victory" cigarettes and that "Pin Heads" another brand are presumably reserved for officers. I really cannot help liking the Kiangsu "doughboy" however. When he sees my yellow emblazoned and red bechopped G. H. Q. badge, he gives me then the nth degree of respect. Some of the more literate decipher its meaning for the benefit of the group inspecting me. At times I feel like a Russian in the Mixed Court rather extraneous and helpless in the environment.

The Chief-of-Staff himself gave me my badge and so far as I have seen it is the only one on the front of its kind. Ordinary badges do not carry anything like the amount of face that this one does.

In this war apparently, it is only the officers who are sent home in coffins, the privates who get killed, must be satisfied to be sent home in gunny-sacks.

Being one who knows nothing of the causes of Chinese belligerency, however, I feel that the whole affair is a personal and not a patriotic movement. There no doubt is some show of loyalty to their chief in these Kiangsu divisions, but outside of the army itself I find very little sentiment in favor of inter-provincial war. Merchants hate it, farmers tolerate it, and coolies grin and bear it. The shops near the front and even far back are closed except during the day when soldiers are busy with fatigue duty or drill. This shows that their own people even do not trust them. Discipline is good in the Kiangsu army, but inherited distrust of the soldier manifests itself in the action of the trader even now. I have neither seen nor heard of cases of looting on this side but even this exceptionally good behavior of these troops has not endeared them to the populace.

NOT A PEOPLE'S WAR

It is not a people's war in any sense. Returned students and officers speak of the reunification of China and the eventual gain to trade which will come when Kiangsu wipes out the Tuchunate of Chekiang, but the people lock their doors before dusk and say little.

Changchow, September 13, 6 p.m.—About 100 wounded soldiers reached here today from the Ishing front. While fighting there was fierce during the 10th and 11th, the successful counter attack by Marshal Chi's troops has made Ishing safe for this side. Any danger of a break through by Chekiang forces so as to menace the Shanghai-Nanking Railway in this sector has passed. In fact the whole attack by Marshal Lu at Ishing is now viewed as a measure engineered to relieve pressure at a critical time on the Huangtu front, when Chekiang resistance was weakening through continued attacks last week by very large forces of Kiangsu veteran troops.

There is at the moment very little to report. Wounded are well taken care of at Soochow, Wusih and even at Ishing. More troops are moving through here towards Anting, only coolies going south to the Ishing sector at present.

Quinsan, Sept. 13, a.m.—The complete frustration of another attack by Chekiang at Ming-Yan-Ling near Ishing is the principal feature of today's news here. After a complete failure on Lake Taiho Chekiang forces attacked near Ishing where they were decisively defeated and forced back.

Pressure by Kiangsu troops continues against the enemy south of Huangtu where a consolidation of ground won and a bringing up of heavy artillery is in progress.

As near as it is possible to gauge enemy strength, it is safe to say that Kiangsu forces on the line are two to one of the enemy. Morale is excellent and with continued success on the line and a daily improvment of transport in the back areas, Kiangsu's high officers believe that a northern victory will be an accomplished fact by October 1.

G. H. Q. officials from His Excellency Marshal Chi down are most desirous of foreigners realising that this offensive against Chekiang is merely the first move in the reunification of China. It will be carried out with due regard for the safety of the foreign settlement at Shanghai and it is hoped that a speedy victory will satisfy foreigners as to the honesty of purpose of Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan. All foreigners in Kiangsu are strong supporters of the Northern army and if the courtesy shown your correspondent is any criterion, people in Shanghai should have no anxiety whatsoever. Foreign military observers here are confident of a speedy Kiangsu victory.

Beware Neglected Colds!

THEY SOW THE SEEDS OF DEADLY CHEST & LUNG DISEASE.

The ruin of many a constitution has started with a neglected chill or wrongly-treated cough or cold. These give rise to the swift and deadly complications which cause the heavily increased mortality from bronchitis, pleurisy and pneumonia.

During bad weather everybody needs to guard against chest and lung dangers by taking Peps, the wonderful breatheable medicine in tablet form. When removed from their silver wrappers and dissolved in the mouth, Peps give off volatile healing and germicidal fumes, that are carried direct with the breath into throat, bronchials and lungs. Thus vital inner parts of the system (which cannot possibly be reached by liquid mixtures) are purified, strengthened and invigorated. Soreness, irritation and inflammation in throat, chest or air-tubes is soothed away; harmful germs are destroyed; troublesome mucus and phlegm are easily got rid of, and the breathing is made free and natural.

Peps are the handiest, safest and most effective remedy ever discovered for coughs, colds and chills, laryngitis, sore throat, bronchial catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, etc. Without the aid of harmful drugs, Peps strengthen and comfort the weak-chested, and afford young and old invaluable protection against contagious disease of throat and lungs, influenza, etc. Be sure to get a supply of Peps to-day. Obtainable of medicine dealers and dispensaries everywhere, or direct from agents: Messrs. Wakefield & Co. (China) Ltd., Szechuen Rd., Shanghai.

Three Non-Musketeers At Liuho Front Prove That Sherman Was Right

But Even At That The War Was Not One Particle As Bad As The Aftermath When The Tin Chariot Just Laid Down And Quit

BY MISHKIN ROBERTS

Three journeymen journalists (emphasis on the journey), members of the China Press staff, insist on the plagiarism of General Sherman's opinion of war as the result of a drive which they conducted on the Liuho front Sunday afternoon. The motive power of the drive is still at Liuho, while the seekers-of-news are safely back in Shanghai, where they rest firmly convinced that, in their case, anticipation can't compare with realisation.

The campaign was mapped out late Saturday night. The war correspondents decided that the war down at Liuho was not being run exactly as good wars should be and that a little expert editorial comment might aid somewhat in whipping up some more exciting news. They insisted that the war to make Shanghai safe for the Chekiangese should be made more interesting, and personal contact with the situation might help to make it so.

The American Club was chosen for the rendezvous, where the adventurers and erstwhile writers of war news foregathered for tiffin before departing for the Liuho sector. A native tongue-twister was to meet us at two o'clock but for some unknown though readily imagined reason he failed to appear. It was decided to start the advance to the front. The tin-armored car, which Lewis had used for his daily jaunts, awaited us with the usual new supply of driver. We understand, now, why it was a new one every day.

TEARFUL FAREWELLS

Our few words of admonitory Chinese would hardly help us much in conversing with staff officers at Liuho with a fitting degree of loquacity, so after a diligent search of the city, one of China's best young men, by the name of Li, was located and convinced that it was his patriotic duty to bring his walla-walla set and join our party. He insisted on taking a young friend along. We could hardly see the reason but strongly suspected that he was to be the corroborator of future prevarications when the trimphant return was made. Of course the proper dramatic departure could not be made without giving the relatives and friends a chance to bid farewell to the heroes, so, Li directed the chauffeur to drive to his house. We almost had to drive over some of the admiring crowd who gathered to see the gallant interpreters, before we got started on the way to Liuho.

Small battalions of ex-ricksha and other coolies, under the supervision of armed guards, were laboring leisurely along the road, on the way out, to make the way smoother for the train of Shanghai taxis and trucks which are hauling ammunition and chow to the front. Although we appreciated their efforts, it did seem that the mud, thickened by the cinders they threw in it, seemed to offer a still greater resistance to our progress.

Nothing more exciting than the passing of mile stones in the form of abandoned motor cars, greeted us until a mile or so from Liuho. Several Japanese were taking a motion picture of two previously human forms lying in the water by the roadside. However, the only action that the camera could record was perhaps the uncanny movement of the hands of the corpses by the current of the stream and the crawling of the maggots that were enthusiastically pursuing their purgatorial work.

ON TO THE FRONT LINE

Just outside of the town we were greeted by an officer in civilian clothes and his armed-to-the-teeth bodyguard. They made us leave the car behind and cautioned us that it would be dangerous to proceed farther. His caution was emphasized by the roar of a field gun in a clump of bushes on our left. We had only to listen to this noisy protest against the nearby presence of our Kiangsu friends and the cracks of rifle fire in the village, to decide that the safest place would probably be in Colonel Chen's headquarters. We were most graciously received there and after a few moments of conversation, having recovered our courage, we were given a guide to show us up to the front-line trenches on the outskirts of the town. As we passed through the narrow streets the houses all seemed to be deserted except for the numerous troops that were billeted in some of them. Bullets were whistling over the roofs and here and there a sniper could be seen firing from the top of a roof in the direction of the enemy.

After crossing an altogether too high bridge over the creek that divides the town, we turned to the left and made our way down along the bank to the edge of the city where the trenches started. The good sportsmanship of the Chekiang troops was clearly demonstrated by the entrance to their trenches. In place of the usual communicating trench from the rear, was a nice round knoll which had to be climbed over in order to enter the trenches from the shelter of the buildings of the village. Even though it be only a wing shot, it offered an excellent sporting chance to the gunners across the way to convince anyone entering or leaving the Chekiang trenches, that Kiangsu was right.

We landed in the trench without a casualty and crawled along for a short distance to mingle with the boys who seemed to be in excellent spirits and were having a fine time. They were well supplied with cigarettes, thermos bottles, umbrellas and other military equipment We snapped some pictures, as best we could in our cramped position, of the officer and men with us as well as of a field piece which was firing right in back of us. The boys seemed very anxious to converse and, according to Li, they were greatly amused at the prospects of our carrying off several coolies with us. As a matter of fact it was about the first trench that we had ever visited without acquiring at least one of the little fellows. A week or so more may make a difference in that particular trench but it won't to us.

One by one we scurried over the hill and around the corner to comparative safety. However, the white topee of one of our party offered a particularly inviting target to a Kiangsu machine-gunner who cut loose with a few bursts which might have caused this tale to have been written by someone else.

Around the corner they were preparing to fire one of the sixty-five millimeter trench mortars. We remained to see the first few shots fired and since at was returned by a steadily increasing shell fire, after taking a few of the empty shells for souvenirs, we wended our way back to headquarters. After a few moments chat with Colonel Chen, we paid our respects and took our leave. Of course we were not anxious to depart as the firing was increasing and it looked as though the interesting part was just coming but, with the fall of darkness and more bullets, we felt that it would be an injustice to the readers of THE CHINA PRESS to remain longer.

Out on the road the bullets had a nasty habit of grazing the telephone wires overhead. In spite of the fact that the resultant music sounded better than the cracks of rifle firing, it was too near to a funeral march to suit us so we quickened our steps to the waiting tin chariot.

Four miles up the road ended the prelude to the real battle. The feed pipe severed connections with the carburetor and, since it was in China, nothing could be done with the unusable tools that remained in the car. The zero hour for our advance on foot to the Shanghai front was set for the immediate moment. With the moon overhead and the mud under foot we set out. An hour and a half and as many miles of road passed when up from the rear came a truck ladened with coolies returning (so we thought) to Shanghai. We stopped them and, after wading through the mud and the smoke from their red-hot engine, hopped aboard and were off—off again on foot for we realised that the only reason that they had caught up with up was because we had stopped to rest. We soon left them behind with absolute confidence that the truck would be deserted with the others near where we left them.

STILL EIGHTEEN LI

After the passage of several hours and layers of skin, we ran into some black-coated policemen wearing the white-banded hats of the Chapei force. Without waiting

CUT IN FREIGHT RATES ORDERED TO AID GERMANS

Measures Are Taken To Help People Discharge Burdens Under Pact

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Sept. 13.—It is announced that in order to enable the German people to discharge their burdens under the London Agreement the Imperial Government in September 18 will reduce the freight rates on normal goods, live-stock and coal by 10 percent and the price of Silesia and Ruhr coal by at least the same amount. The Reichsbank will raise its quota of discounts by 10 percent. The currency of bills of exchange at the Reichsbank, as regards ordinary trade bills will be restored within 3 months and the discounting of bank acceptances will be renewed. Banking unions will be urged to maintain normal provisions for credit through changes in rates of interest. The bulk of the numerous regulations regarding foreign currencies will be abolished. The turnover tax will be reduced from October 1 to 2 percent, and the Company and Security taxes will also be reduced from the same date.

Stresemann Denies 'League Interview;' Misquoted, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Sept. 15.—Dr. Stresemann, the Foreign Minister, denies that he was responsible for the statement with regard to Germany's conditions as to her entering the League of Nations. He declares that he has been misquoted. His view is that Germany's entry must not be made conditional on recognition by the German Government of Germany's alleged responsibility for the war. The Government, he says, holds the same views in this connection as its predecessors.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Sept. 13.—The authoritative announcement issued yesterday evening that Germany was unable to enter the League of Nations until the question of war guilt had been settled has created a sensation in the press. It is joyfully greeted by newspapers of the Right and denounced by the Democrats and the Socialists.

It is now announced that the statement emanated from Dr. Stresemann, and was his first act upon returning to Berlin.

A Cabinet crisis is considered certain.

Militarism Still Rules Worlds, Says Japanese General

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, September 14.—Militarism as well as a desire to consummate the national defense characterise the nations of the world, and America preeminently so, in spite of the efforts of the League of Nations to inaugurate an era of peace, is the observation attributed in this morning's papers to General Wada, the head of the Imperial Japanese Military Mission which has just returned from America.

General Wada urges the Japanese nation to face the problem of defense with greater seriousness, rather than be deluded by false and untimely ideas of peace.

Kiangsu Successes Claimed By Peking Official Bulletins

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 14.—Official bulletins claim that the Chekiang forces at Liuho, Kiating and Hwangtu on September 12 were defeated and suffered many casualties and that owing to lack of reinforcements they are being surrounded.

The defeat of the Kiangsu forces near Ihing (Yishing) is not confirmed by these reports, which, on the contrary state that Marshal Chi Hsueh-yuan's forces have occupied a portion of Lanshan and have captured over 50 prisoners and a quantity of arms and ammunition.

The Ninth Division, which has been recruiting in Peking for transport work since September 9, has enrolled 3,000 recruits.

Generally the situation appears to be ripening but there is no sign of early hostilities.

Three Non-Musketeers At Liuho Front Prove That Sherman Was Righ

to determine whether the white was for truce or purity, we told Li to ask how far remained between us and the previously despised Shanghai. "Eighteen li," was the disconcerting reply. Death seemed near and welcome but we pushed on with the false consolation that the man was probably lying. It seemed that at least a bottle of beer, to say nothing of food, would be required to give us strength to go on. Patrick preferred iced tea while Lewis wanted a small bottle of wine. Filet mignon with French fried potatoes vied with ham and eggs as the preferable chow with midnight nearer than Shanghai and no dinner.

We trudged along and finally Put and I decided to utilise the cushions of a marooned Ford in an effort to compromise with fatigue. Lewis thought it best to go on, as he did with the two Chinese, who were about ready to drop. We fought off the advances of sleep for a few minutes and again ploughed on our way.

At the next rest station we heard the approach of a townward-headed car and, as it came near, we took the middle of the road in a determined effort to meet with more success than we had with several others that had passed us up. A steady stream of these cars seemed to be operating during the night without lights, carrying ammunition out and wounded soldiers back.

JUST ROOM FOR TWO

Luckily there was room for the two of us as the car was only carrying one wounded man and the soldier attending him. Lewis, who had left us with a "See you in the morning boys," was passed only a short distance up the road, and we made an unsuccessful attempt to have the chauffeur pick him up. He told us that two more cars were coming right behind and that he could get one of those.

After spending some time trying to find our way out of a maze of Chapei's blind alleys and having a loaded gun muzzle poked in our faces at every street corner, we reached Shanghai North Station. The other cars did not arrive with Lewis so we spent an unfruitful half hour trying to persuade a taxi company to let us take a car out after him. At a quarter of two, we decided that we needed as much attention as Lewis and made a dash for the nearest two orders of ham and eggs and our respective iced tea and beer.

Li is in the hospital and Lewis didn't "see us in the morning." Since our stiffness isn't permanent, no one missed us out at Liuho but this is evidence that the bullets did.

Germans Extract Locust Oils For Airplane Motors

(Reuter's Service)

Bocholt, Germany, Aug. 11.—A plague of locusts has brought a new industry to this region, where the insects have been gathered by the ton and oil extracted from their bodies. The locusts came over the frontier from Holland, by countless billions, and were caught by women and boys with great baskets.

The oil is intended for airplane motors, and is said to be particularly adaptable for winter flying, because it does not congeal in low temperatures. Good, fat locusts retailed at about one-fourth of a cent a pound. After the insects passed through the oil extraction process, the refuse was used as fertilizer.

New aluminium cases, cleaners and adjustments free.

When we first commenced advertising extensively, almost two years ago, other opticians told you it was most unethical. Particularly those old-fashioned opticians who failed to realise what every business man knows to-day, what the "North China Daily News" told you in its columns:—"That a business without advertising is as bad as a business without book-keeping."

When we later advertised prices,—particularly prices which were unprecedented—when we offered to fill any prescription in genuine Toric Sir Wm Crookes' Glass for which other opticians were charging from $15 to $25.00, for a standard charge of only $5 on any lens prescription, they told you that we were "selling-out," that we were going out of business.

When we prospered on our extensive business regardless of low prices, they told you that optical "price-advertising" was unethical.

But now, the other opticians are imitating by advertising in a small way—they are even advertising "Special prices" on white lenses with frame which is almost 50% higher than our charge for Toric Sir Wm Crookes lenses complete with European or American Spectacles or Eyeglasses.

There are some things that other opticians cannot copy—and that is the leadership and originality with which we are constantly and consistently improving our service to the public.

Other opticans have not copied, and the O.I.C. is the first and only optical establishment to formulate and publish a standard guarantee on both lenses and frames. The O.I.C. is the first and only opticians to give cases, cleaners, adjustments, etc. free—no charge for small repairs such as springs, screws etc.,—any lens replaced for $1.—prices marked in plain figures on all frames from $1. up, and standard price of $5. on any lens prescription.

Do not permit yourself to be influenced by malicious lies compounded by jealous interests—investigate O:I:C Service and compare the results with your experiences elsewhere.

Remember the O.I.C. is the strongest financially of all optical establishments in the Orient, the Largest, Most-Modern and Best Equipped.

O.I.C. Glasses and Examination are unreservedly Guaranteed.

We claim, and can prove, that O.I.C. patrons comprise the foremost professional and business men of this city and outports, including leading physicians, Municipal councillors both Chinese and Foreign.

When you break your glasses next give us an opportunity of PROVING our desire to please and gain your patronage and approval of O.I.C. expert, careful, conscientious service. It is because of our earnest desire to gain your friendship that we have inaugurated our ultra-moderate-service charge of $1.00 only for any lens replacement, any prescription, finest quality guaranteed.

An extra pair of glasses is always a convenience and a necessity in case of loss or breakage. We can duplicate your present glasses, or check over same by examining your eyes for possible improvement, and the resultant glasses will demonstrate that we not only know our business, but that we are expert at fitting glasses that are more comfortable and becoming than any you have ever had.

Let us show you the latest styles and inventions in optical goods. Let us show you the advantages of O.I.C Glasses and Service. Let us prove that we can improve on your present glasses. It costs you only a few dollars to convince yourself that we have the finest examining equipment, the most modern methods, and the largest assortment of styles in comfortable-becoming mountings. It costs only a few dollars to convince yourself, and we GUARANTEE BOTH THE EXAMINATION AND THE GLASSES.

This article contains an exposure of the methods and moral standards of those opticians who, actuated by jealousy, seek to slander the O.I.C.

A recent advertisement, apparently directed against the O.I.C. advised you not to purchase "Cheap lenses made by Cheap Chinese labour," and goes on to extol the virtues of certain "ready-made" imported stock lenses. Is it necessary for us to point out that not long ago, this same optician advertised the benefits of lenses made "by his own work on the premises"—in a shop where only Chinese labour is employed.

Is it not significant to note that for years local opticians have been grinding lenses by Chineses labour exclusively, from glass invented by Sir Wm. Crookes and charging from $15 to $25.00 per pair for the lenses, and NOW THAT WE SELL THE SAME IDENTICAL LENSES FOR $5 PER PAIR AND REPLACE ANY BROKEN LENS FOR $1, NOW YOU ARE TOLD NOT TO BUY LENSES MADE BY "CHEAP-CHINESE LABOUR"

IT IS MISLEADING TO EXPECT TO OBTAIN ALL PRESCRIPTIONS FROM SUCH "READY MADE LENSES" because there are hundreds of lens prescriptions which cannot be filled from stock. You should know that there are about 100,000 possible prescriptions of combinations for lens-focal-powers, and that therefore it is impossible to obviate the necessity of specially ground lenses.

Such assortment of "ready made lenses" as can be carried in stock, are imported with both surfaces ground, but the most important work of centering de-centering, axis-making, edging, drilling, mounting, etc., must be done in Shanghai by Chinese workmen.

Would you prefer to wear "ready made stock lenses," or have lenses specially ground to your actual prescription requirements in our own laboratory under the supervision of a foreign expert?

O.I.C. lenses are ground from the finest quality imported lens-blanks, from glass produced by the World's largest manufacturers, including Messrs. Chance Bros. of Birmingham England, American Optical Company, Southbridge, Mass. and Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. Rochester, N.Y.

O.I.C. has no reason for and nothing to gain by substituting "ready-made-stock-lenses." Every pair of O.I.C. Sir Wm. Crookes' Toric Lenses are ground to the individual requirements of each patient.

The O.I.C. has no secrets—nothing to hide—the various processes of lens grinding are, for the first time in Shanghai, open to your inspection—we have a demonstration plant in our Nanking and Honan Road Windows, erected at considerable expense for your inspection. The machinery used is identical to the equipment of the finest laboratories in Europe and America, the processes are entirely mechanical, and the finished product—O.I.C. Lenses—absolutely and unreservedly guaranteed.

Quite recently, an advertisement appeared in "The Evening News" over the signature of a local optician directed against the O.I.C

On Sunday, August 17th 1924, we published an advert in the "China Press," at the top of which appeared the letters "NRPTZOE." These letters should have been printed in the same size type as a photograph sent for publication—a photo of Snellen's Standard Test Type for reading by normal eyes at a distance of 20 feet.

Through an error of the advertising department of the "China Press," the test letters were printed in larger type than that requested by us, which large type was suited reading at 70 feet instead of 20 feet.

The following day we requested a reprint and correction, and accordingly in the issue of August 22nd the "China Press" reprinted the advertisement using the correct size letters as originally requested.

After the correction had appeared, (and five days after the appearance of our original advert) a local optician, actuated (he says) solely "in the interests of the public at large," inserted an advertisement in "The Evening News," referring to the correction, and enquiring how we, as experts, could make such a mistake. Of course, it was intended you should draw an inference that the inaccuracy was ours and that he was the only optician with the profound knowledge of Snellen's Standard Test Type—with which almost every school-child is familiar.

Imagine the feelings of this optician when the "China Press" inserted, in their issue of Aug. 24th, an apology and correction, and accepted complete responsibility for their mistake, as follows:—

In last Sunday's (August 17th) paper there appeared an advertisement of the Oculists' Institute Company, and at the top of the advertisement there was printed a line of type containing the letters, "NRPTZOE." The size of type in which this mystic word was printed should have been of a size suited for reading by normal eyes at a distance of 20 feet. Through a mistake of the advertising department the size of type used was larger than was intended. It should be read by normal eyes at approximately 70 feet. Test letters in eye examination are based upon a 20 foot arc which was invented by Snellen in 1865. In our reprint of the advertisement on last Friday (August 22nd) the orginal 20 foot Snellen type was used in the O.I.C. advertisement. We are glad to take this opportunity of apologsing to the O.I.C. for the mistake in the ad and also to our subscribers who may have become confused by testing there eye-sight thereby."

Chekiang Forces Mine Town Of Liuho; Kiangsu Launches Heavy Attack

BY D. J. LEWIS

Liuho, Sunday, September 14, 8 a.m.—According to the military commander at Liuho the section of the town located on the north bank of the creek has now been mined with dynamite bombs, and as proof of this the commander pointed out to us a large electric cable which stretches from his headquarters in the direction of the creek. At first it was reported that this cable connected with submarine mines planted along the shores of the Yangtsze adjacent to Liuho in order to prevent the Kiangsu fleet from approaching the shore, but now it apparently is established that the mines are located ashore and possibly in the outskirts of the village of Liuho itself in order to prevent a mass attack of Kiangsu troops.

Accompanied by Mr. Talbot Patrick, staff correspondent of THE CHINA PRESS at Huangtu, we made a tour of the front line trenches and outer defences at Liuho on Sunday, September 14. The entire town is still in the hands of the Chekiang troops and several snipers were noticed firing from the windows of the buildings. Spent bullets were landing uncomfortably close to headquarters while we were there. All motor traffic is now stopped four li from the town owing to the number of shells passing over the road. The road to Liuho has not been hit by shell fire, though the Kiangsu troops are near enough to direct rifle fire across it.

The fire of the previous night had been extinguished. Six lives were lost due to the fire. In Sunday's fighting Chekiang admits loss of their number killed. The Kiangsu forces owing to the dry condition of the surrounding territory following the hot sun were attacking the town in force. Several dead and wounded were noticed behind the lines. Chekiang is on this front 5:65 millimeter Krupp mortars and a battery of Krupp 75 millimeter field pieces distributed singly.

The telephone line to Shanghai is still in good condition. Laborers are still working on the road. Several groups of coolies under guard were noticed being sent up to the front lines. It is estimated that the Kiangsu troops are now within 2 li of the outskirts of Liuho and a determined effort will be made by them to retake Liuho.

Mr. Tang-Bing Hing, an English speaking aide is now attached to the Chekiang headquarters. A large party of Japanese observers were noticed at Liuho on Sunday taking cinema pictures of the front lines. We left Liuho at 6:30 p.m. and arrived at Shanghai on foot at 2 p.m. Monday morning, our car having broken down. Ammunition was moving up to Liuho in a steady stream by passenger cars guarded by soldiers with loaded carbines. Just why they do not go off is a mystery when they hit the mud wallows along the road. Several police armed with truncheons were noticed on guard at several of the bridges. Several groups of troops were being rushed up in trucks and the situation appeared to me serious.

$191,000,0000 Is Spent By Canada To Improve Roads

(Reuter's American Service)

Ottawa, Ont., August 14.—Canada has spent $191,000,000 in building good roads in the last five years, according to John B. Harkin, Dominion Commissioner of Parks.

"The Dominion has received $118,000,000 in revenue from foreign tourist traffic in the same period," Mr. Harkin said, in an address before the Ottawa Rotary Club. "This represented a large yield on the capital expenditure on roads. Automobile tourist traffic from the United States has trebled in the last three years. In 1921 American cars entering Canada numbered 617,387; in 1922 they totalled 966,329 and in 1923 they numbered 1,942,387.

"Improvement, of highways has been a big factor in the development of Canada's tourist trade. The Dominion knows that it is not spending money on roads, but merely investing it. It is an investment that will return a dollar for every cent put into it. Under plans adopted by the provinces in co-operation with the Federal Government, Canada will soon have a system of transcontinental highways second to none.

"Road building activity has been especially pronounced in the prairie provinces of Western Canada where land settlement has been heavy in recent years. Farmers know that with good roads the market channels for crops will always be open. Good roads mean general prosperity. They save farmers millions of dollars in hauling costs annually.

Little Chance For Intervention Seen By Baron Hayashi

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 13.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Ambassador, interviewed by a representative of the Sunday Times on the position in China, and asked how the Powers could intervene unless prepared to spend a lot of money, which America and Japan are certainly not prepared to do, thinks that little is possible at the present time beyond protecting nationals' lives and property. He suggests the establishment of small military guards, on the principal railways, either Chinese or foreign, or perhaps Chinese under an international body of officers.

It will be time for the Powers to intervene usefully, says Baron Hayashi, and offer combined assistance, when a definite decision has been reached in the struggle, or all the claimants are exhausted. Japanese statesmen today recognise their predecessors' mistake in refusing to support Yuan Shih-kai as the British were so prepared to do.

The Japanese Ambassador testified to General Chang. Tso-lin's military and commercial ability.

(Italian Wireless Through Reuter)

Paris, Sept. 8.—The minster of Foreign Affairs declared that Japan would intervene if it came to protecting Japanese interests in Manchuria, but that in regard to Shanghai Japan would cooperate with the other Powers.

Wahabis Fanatics Raid Hedjaz; Mecca Fears For Safety

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 13.—Following a report that the Wahabis, a fanatical Moslem sect, have raided Hedjaz, captured the town of Taif 70 miles south-east of Mecca, destroyed tombs and massacred the population, Reuter's Cairo correspondent reports that the Egyptian Minister of Public Works has received a telegram from the Superintendent of the Egyptian hostel for poor pilgrims at Mecca asking for permission to transfer funds to Jeddah owing to the danger of Mecca falling into the hands of the Wahabis.

It appears that practically all of King Hussein's forces are concentrated in the region of Taif, leaving only a small police force at Mecca, and it is considered improbable that the tribes will rally to King Hussein in the event of an attack on Mecca.

Admiral Everett Announces Staff

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 14.—The secretary to Vice-Admiral Sir Allan Everett in his flagship the Hawkins will be Paymaster Commander Norman Roy, and the new Flag Captain will be Captain W. J. C. Lake.

Note:—Vice Admiral Sir Allan Everett is expected to assume command of the China Station in succession to Admiral Sir Arthur Leveson at the beginning of November.

Nicaragua Plans To Buy Up Bank

(Reuter's American Service)

Managua, Nicaragua, August 18.—The Government is engaged in negotiations for the purchase of the National Bank of Nicaragua from the holding syndicate of New York bankers. It is intended to establish the bank on lines similar to the Federal Reserve system and the farm loan bank in the United States, and to extend loans to the agriculturists at low interest. The present rate of interest is from twelve to thirty percent. annually.

Soviet Government Denies Seriousness Of Georgia Revolt

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, September 13.—The Soviet Commissariat for Foreign Affairs, in a communique today denies the seriousness of the situation in Georgia, which, it says, is greatly exaggerated in the foreign press at the instigation of Russian emigres and Menshevik refugees from Georgia in order to discredit the Soviet abroad and to nullify the Anglo-Soviet negotiations.

(French Wireless Through Reuter)

Pairs, Sept. 13.—The Soviet Press publishes an official communique to the effect that the Soviet will reject the mediation of the League of Nations in regard to Georgia. M. Trotsky will direct military operations against the Georgian rebels.

Russ Recognition By Japan Is Near, Belief In Peking

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Peking, Sept. 15.—Japanese recognition of Russia is expected before the end of the month, when, it is predicted the preliminary agreement between Japan and the Soviet will be signed here as a result of the change in policy of Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese ambassador to China, who is in charge of the negotiations on behalf of Tokio.

It is understood that the negotiations are now being conducted on the basis of arriving at a general agreement, with specific concessions and terms to follow later.

Sales At Wing On And Sincere Shops Draw Shoplifters

Two Chinese were sentenced in the Mixed Court yesterday for shoplifting, one being accused by Wing On's and the other by Sincere's. Both men appeared before Mr. Jacobs, American Assessor, and Magistrate Sung.

The first man was charged with stealing ten feet of serge, of a value of $17, from Wing On's. In Court yesterday an employe of the complaining firm gave evidence. The accused admitted the charge.

The man has had three previous convictions, and was also charged with returning from expulsion, and was yesterday sentenced to a year's imprisonment, with re-expulsion at the end of it.

The second accused, a shop assistant, was accused of taking a roll of satin worth $35 from Sincere's on Saturday afternoon. The satin was lying on a counter when the accused was seen by an assistant to slip it under his gown. The assistant called a Chinese police constable and had the man arrested. He was yesterday sentenced to a month's imprisonment.

American-Oriental Bank Employes In Court For Larceny

A shroff employed by the American-Oriental Banking Corporation was yesterday found guilty in the Mixed Court of the larceny of $1,000 from his employers. On Thursday morning last $25,000 in notes was moved from the vault of the Bank on the third floor, and upon counting the notes after their removal $1,000 was found to be missing. Six men were engaged in carrying up the money, and when the theft was discovered the police were notified at once.

Shortly after, however, a shroff who has been employed by the bank for two years came to the office of the chief Chinese employee and admitted having taken the money. He returned it, pleading for leniency, and was later arrested.

The case came up before Mr. Martin, American Assessor, and Magistrate Loh in Court yesterday. Mr. King appeared for the Bank, and said that instructions were to prosecute the case. He asked that the accused be sentenced, but that the sentence be suspended. The accused man pleaded guilty.

The Court sentenced the accused to a year's imprisonment, eleven months of which is to be suspended.

A. Viola Smith Writes Of Visit To War Zone

BY A. VIOLA SMITH

Miss Smith, Assistant United States Trade Commissioner at Shanghai and the first woman ever to be appointed to that position by the American Government, went out to see the war on the Liuho front last week and after a few hours' experience where the bullets and shrapnel were flying, she has written her impressions for THE CHINA PRESS which we present herewith.

Liuho, Friday, Sept. 12, 10:30 p.m.—The inimitable Ford piloted by a Chinese chauffeur; plus the indispensable Chinese office boy, and the good Secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce and myself were off for the Liuho sector of the Chinese front I dressed in golf knickers, my stout old mountain boots (an unexpected use found for them in China), raincoat and slouch hat! Time 4:30 p.m.

THE CHINA PRESS—An official pass written in Chinese characters upon blue backed with yellow silk about 3½ x 5 inches, bearing thereupon in English letters "T. Patrick"—this was to take us securely through Chinese territory and give us entree to headquarters at Liuho.

The Sinza Bridge—unguarded either by police or soldiers, at either the Settlement side or the Chapei side—across—into Chinese territory of Chapei, through typical Chinese narrow streets—through a mystic maze of humans, rickshas, wonk dogs, and various paraphernalia—across the Shanghai-Nanking Railroad tracks and we hit the cinder road locally known as the Shanghai-Taitsong road.

An overturned bus of the China Garage formerly used by the American school for transporting the children to and from school was the first thing that greeted us. It was well into a ditch and in no way obstructed traffic.

For ii upon li we traversed through the tilled fields of the Chinese farmer, who was laboring in an unconcerned manner as if no war had ever been heard of. Chinese boys dressed in broad straw coolie hats with reed straw coats to protect them from the drizzling rain, were perched upon water buffaloes, whence they beamed smiles upon us as we drove by.

THE FIRST MUD HOLE

A third of the way out perhaps. Our first mudhole. A bad one, but through which our Ford notably ploughed. A smoother stretch, and then three other bad mud holes—one almost impossible both as to mud as well as being obstructed by the piling up of four trucks and touring cars right in the center of the road. Our chauffeur managed to scoot around them (on one wheel I thought) and on we went.

Perhaps we were within two miles of Liuho when the roar of the first guns reached us. Our chauffeur and interpreter registered "interest." We speculated as to what direction the fire was taking and whether it was the Chekiang or Kiangsu troops.

Liuho—6:30 p.m. Still light. Idle soldiers crowded around our car. We enter through mud to our ankles into a typical Chinese mud house (tiled roof). Soldiers strewn upon the floors. We wound our way through three small rooms until we reached an inner room not more than 8 x 8 feet large, wherein was billeted the commanding officer of the Chekiang troops—Colonel Chang Yi-sheng.

I took a second look, as I had not realised that we had been ushered into the Colonel's presence without any formalities whatsoever. Perhaps this was due to the fact that the "honorable" secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce had visited headquarters before and was recognised and accordingly permitted to pass. Nevertheless I had fully expected at least some challenge at headquarters, inasmuch as we had not been challenged at any point upon the road.

The Commanding Officer's quarters—a typical dirty Chinese room—furnished with two Chinese tables, a Chinese bunk bed made of board planks covered with a blanket and draped with mosquito netting, a wicker steamer chair and two or three straight stools.

TEA IS SERVED

The Commanding Officer stood greeting us in his ordinary Chinese costume of white coat and pants (similar to what we call pajama suits) nonchalantly smoking a cigarette. His uniform hung upon various portions of the wall or on the bed posts. He greeted us affably though speaking no English. He has a pleasing countenance and personality.

His second in command, dressed in grey alpaca pants with coat buttoned straight up the front to his throat wearing a soft grey cap to match, carrying a cane, wearing a gold wrist watch and glasses entered. He proved to be Major Yu.

Numerous coolies, a few soldiers dressed in uniform (probably guards) come in and out pouring us tea from modern thermos bottles—German makes.

An hour's interview of the day's happenings which I shall not relate, leaving that to Lewis' story for today's paper.

In the midst of which, besides always being served tea, we were offered white bread, a can of Libby, McNeill and Libby's corned beef, and a can of Chinese food. Armed with chopsticks, Lewis and I did justice to the bread and Libby's beef. From the time we arrived at headquarters we were constantly hearing the rifle shots of the Chekiang forces, but I did not identify any spent bullets from the Kiangsu forces. During our interview a big 3 inch gun "barked" eight times. This gun was very close to headquarters front door. The Colonel assured us that there was no danger, that they were merely entertaining the opposite side who had for the last couple of hours stopped fighting.

BACK TO SHANGHAI

Adieux about 8:30 and we are again on our road to Shanghai. Nothing of advent except a puncture which fortunately occurred on good road and when we were very near to Shanghai. We waited for its repair by our chauffeur. Again on our way, but no sooner had we entered Chapei than it went out again, and we came in on the "flat" until hitting Nanking and Shansi roads, when we lost both tire and tube. Once regaining these, our chauffeur completed the rest of the journey to THE CHINA PRESS office on the rim!

I left Lewis to work up his story, and after a few minutes greeting to Mr. Powell and Jabin Hsu, took my weary self back to the Hotel, for real food, a real night's rest and a bath—principally the latter. However, I had not only been to the front, but had returned home with two three-inch shells which we had managed to salvage from a stalled truck just outside of headquarters.

THE SECOND TRIP

Liuho, Saturday, Sept. 13.—The Colonel had promised us that if we came out early today he would take us up to the front lines. Lewis had intended starting about noon, but for some reason this was set up to 4:00 p.m. and we really didn't get away from town until 5:00 p.m., mainly because I was starved and insisted upon being fortified with sandwiches which we secured at the American Club; and with sweet buns from the Chocolate Shop.

It had been raining torrents all night and day and I thought our trip out rather foolish, not seeing how they could do much fighting, in such rain, and further on account of it being Mid-Autumn Festival.

We had scarcely gotten out of Shanghai onto the Liuho road before our "pet tire" went out again, and we were obliged to "park" ourselves in a blinding rain while the chauffeur changed the tire under a canopy, which the Chinese office boys made of the side curtains. Fortunately I was dressed for rough weather and although my raincoat was drenched, I was kept dry.

While waiting, a truck of the Chapei fire brigade dashed by us. We pricked up our ears wondering what the excitement was. Later it returned bearing coolies and we discovered that a gang of coolies, (possibly 100) had been repairing one of the bad holes in the road which we had encountered on yesterday's trip. Some of the holes were filled in with cinders, and a little crushed stone had been dumped into a few places. We took heart, thinking that the worst part of the road had been repaired, only to find that what had yesterday been considered by us as good stretches, had gone out during the rains of the night and day, and become mud bogs. Although road, and at times looking impassable, we managed to get through.

About a couple of miles from Liuho we sighted a red blaze. The sky was so black with clouds that I first took the burst of red flame to be the firing of one of the big guns. Later we saw that part of Liuho was on fire. As we drew closer we could hear both shells and bullets spending themselves through the air, and knew that the Kiangsu troops were tonight active. One shell passed behind our car just as we stopped at headquarters, and I saw the flash of flame as it struck to earth, but apparently did not explode.

SOLDIERS FIGHT FLAMES

Entering the Colonel's headquarters we found his place evacuated. Soon Major Yu, the second in command came in and greeted us cordially. We were told that the fire had been caused by a shell of the Kiangsu forces falling upon a thatched roof house in the southeast portion of the village. Fighting had been suspended during the day in deference to Mid-Autumn Festival but the Kiangsu troops had begun to fire upon Liuho about 6:00 p.m. (We had arrived later than last night, it being about 6:40 when we got there tonight).

Tonight the spending of both shells and rifle shots across the roof tops of headquarters made us realise that things were tenser than last evening. Colonel Chang was apparently up by the fire where we were told 80 soldiers were fighting the flames.

We had been there but about half an hour, aides running to and fro (thereby causing me to decide that things must be considerably different than last evening), when the second in command, Major Yu, politely told us that he would appreciate our leaving for town early this evening as Kiangsu was constantly shelling Liuho, and it was really unsafe. We told him we felt we were in no danger, and lingered on, all the while questioning him through our interpreter. Finally, after another aide had made a hasty report to Major Yu, the latter took his Chinese brush and wrote upon paper a written request in polite terms that we "move on"! He was very happy to have had us there on the other days, and glad to have seen us tonight, but it was really becoming more and more unsafe, and he would have to request us to leave at once.

We endeavored to get him to take us up where the fire was, but he was adamant. Not wishing to be taken by the "scruff of the neck" and pitched out, we peacefully departed, upon his third request, feeling that to stay longer would mean that our source of information would be considerably curtailed upon the occasion of our next visit (if we again made one).

NOT CURED YET!

No I am not cured! Neither shall I be until I have been in the front lines and actually seen the soldiers in active combat! Perhaps after that I shall be content to stay in Shanghai and take my news from "cold print."

Returning home, we had engine trouble which stalled us for quite a while, but fortunately we were later able to get into town on high, although "low gear" was considerably out of kilter. One Chekiang trooper rode on our running board as far as the Red Cross Station at Lootien. Further on a number of soldiers stopped us at a bridge. We thought they were challenging us for our pass at first, but it proved to be merely that they wanted a ride in further down the line. Upon seeing that our car was filled they made no attempt to get in.

Back to hotel at 11 p.m. My second day of "warring" and still not even "half shot." Believe me, the trip to and from Liuho over rough roads filled with mud holes, takes far more courage than being at headquarters under fire.

Spanish Gains In Morocco Reported

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 15.—A despatch from Madrid states that the situation in the western zone of Morocco shows improvement. The road between Ceuta and Tetouan has been cleared of rebels.

The Military Directory does not intend to abandon Spain's right in Morocco but proposes merely to reduce the number of positions held.

YUE CHONG COAL COMPANY
25-26 North Soochow Road, Shanghai.
Telephons: North 651 and North 1717

We have been carrying on our business for more than thirty years and have been enjoying the confidence and commendation of the public. We are selling the coals of the best Chinese coal mines, such as, Dah Doong Coal, Ching Hsing Coal, Chung Hsing Coal, Tung Woo Coal, Houchi Coal, Liu Ho Kow Coal as well as Saghaline Coal. The Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway, Compagnie des Messageries Maritimes, and Italian, American, French and Chinese Warships, Cotton Mills and other industrial factories have been purchasing great quantities of coal from us, and our annual sale amounts to 200,000 tons.

Our coal is best selected and at moderate prices, and consumers may rely on us in obtaining the right kind of coal as named on their order, and that is why our business has been increasing steadily.

Orders from foreign warships are especially welcome. It is understood that warships used to purchase coal from the merchants who are not belonging to the coal trade and who obtain their coal after passing many hands. These merchants do not understand what is the right coal for warships, therefore they are liable to be cheated by these merchants. Such actions bring serious damage to the names of our Chinese coal mines.

We are doing business on thoroughly honest basis in a measure to preserve the name of our Chinese coals as well as to push our business. We guarantee the satisfaction of foreign steamships who may place orders with us.

A Burroughs Will Keep You Better Posted

Each account in your ledger carries a proved balance every day when your books are kept on a Burroughs Automatic Bookkeeping Machine.

This machine keeps you better posted in three important ways. It does the posting in less time. It keeps your work up-to-date without overtime or night work. It provides information and a knowledge of how much is due you—not once a month, but every day.

What a contrast to old-fashioned pen-and-ink methods! Every time you refer to an account for credit information, you must resort to hurried pencil figuring which frequently is inaccurate. Morever, to keep such records up-to-date often calls for overtime or night work. It's real economy to post ledgers with a Burroughs.

Have a conference with the Burroughs man today. Phone the nearest Burroughs representative, or mail the coupon. There is not the slightest obligation and the savings which may result from such a conference may mean considerable money to you.

SHIPPING FIRMS IN GERMANY TO POOL INTERESTS

Competition, Particularly In Orient, Eliminated Under New Pact

(Reuter's Service)

Hamburg, Germany, August 11.—The shipping companies of Germany have effected a pooling of interests that will be of far-reaching importance to shippers everywhere. The new arrangement practically eliminates competition between German concerns, and substitutes therefor a close coordination of the entire German shipping industry.

The most far-reaching arrangement is that covering the lines doing business with the Orient. The German Levant line and the German Orient line have merged. The Levant line, in turn, represents a merger of the German Levant line, the Bremen Aro line and the Bremen Atlas line. All of the shares of the Levant line were in the hands of the Hamburg America line. Before the German Orient line, which is a Stettin and Hamburg concern, was ready also to merge, it insisted upon receiving 50 percent of the shares of the Levant line. This was conceded, whereupon the entire oriental service was combined in one concern. This means that freight rates can be offered that will successfully underbid, it is claimed, those of other countries.

This combination of shipping companies doing business in the near East is regarded as but a first step in the direction of actually putting all German shipping under "one hat."

By pooling interests, the German lines hope to make it possible to throw their tonnage in whatever direction business is best, without having to keep up established schedules merely for the sake of prestige.

Two Are Killed In Hindu-Moslem Riot

(Reuter's Service)

Lucknow, Sept. 13.—A Hindu-Moslem riot today, which was caused by a rumor that a Hindu boy was being converted to Islam, resulted in two persons being killed and twenty injured.

MANAGER FACES EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE HERE

Responsible Chinese In Tobacco Products Corp'n Accused

Sung Nyo-tsung, Chinese manager of the Tobacco Products Corporation (China), appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday on two charges brought by the company, the first being an embezzlement charge of $4,360. The second charge involves three other men also, all under arrest, and is an accusation of fraud, conspiring to obtain money from the Corporation by fraudulent means other than false pretences.

Sung and the other three men indicted on the latter count are accused of having written letters to the company demanding $500, stating that Sung, their manager, was kidnapped and being held for ransom, and would be released upon the sum mentioned being turned over to a man who would be on the street at a certain place and time smelling an orange. Sung is believed to have written the letters himself.

In Court yesterday Mr. Davies appeared for the complainant firm, and asked that the case be remanded for the American Assessor, on Thursday. This was granted by the Court, British Assessor Whitamore and Magistrate Li presiding.

Mr. Soong, appearing as counsel for Sung Nyo-tsung, asked that his client be released on bail. In view of the second charge, however, and the nature of the letters involved, the Court refused to grant bail as requested.

Packing Plant In Shanghai Planned By U. S. Chinese

(Reuter's Service)

Winnemucca, Nev., Aug., 27.—Chong Chung, 70 years old, having amassed a small fortune from a restaurant where he sold hams and bacon cured by himself, has sold out and is going to Shanghai to open a packing plant. He has arranged with exporters to have hogs shipped from the United States.

Chung says he was the first Chinese baby born in the City of San Francisco.

Britisher Sues In Mixed Court For Breach Of Contract

In the Mixed Court yesterday Mr. Albert Corlett Davis, British manufacturers' agent here, sued Mr. Yu Loo-tang for the sum of Tls. 15,000 for breach of contract, and for Tls. 1,120 for damages. The case was heard before Mr. Martin, British Assessor, and Magistrate Zau. The plaintiff was represented by Mr. Lewis, of Messrs. Teesdale, Newman and MacDonald, and the defendant by Mr. Davies, of Messrs. Davies and Bryan.

The case is based on an agreement between the plaintiff and the defendant in April 24. In Court yesterday counsel for Mr. Davis stated that the latter had made this contract in order to start business with Mr. Yu, who had failed to put up Tls. 15,000 as agreed, and furthermore had retained a sample tire upon which the business was dependent.

The plaintiff, on the stand yesterday, referred to his business standing and experience. He had decided to try the import of ricsha tires from manufacturers in England, and had sent them a sample tire, they sending him a sample to match. This was in February. Later he had met Mr. Yu, the defendant, who appeared interested, and who after several interviews agreed to put up the money necessary for the purchase of a preliminary lot of tires.

After a draft contract had been drawn up, in connection with which there was disagreement, it was decided that the profits should be divided 70 percent. to Mr. Yu and 30 percent. to Mr. Davis, and on March 30 the agreement was signed. It was also agreed that arrangements more favorable to Mr. Davis would be made after the first shipment was disposed of.

Regarding the question of offices, Mr. Yu had agreed to take those adjoining Mr. Davis' office, regarding which plaintiff had made an agreement with the landlord. The defendant had neither paid any rent nor anything on account.

After hearing the evidence of a second witness, for the plaintiff, the Court adjourned the case for a further hearing.

France Has Plan For Funding War Debt To America

(Reuter's American Service)

Washington, Sept. 13.—Mr. Edward Surley, a member of the American Debt-Funding Commission, who recently returned from Paris, where he conferred with French Government officials, today submitted to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon a plan for the settlement of the French debt to the United States providing for the payment of the debt in 67 years at the rate of $100,000,000 a year with interest, on condition that the United States re-invests half of the annual payments in French industrial bonds.

Mr. Surley stated that the French reaction to the proposal was favourable.

MOTHER OF 11 CHILDREN

Tells Why Baby's Own Tablets Are Always Kept In Her House

The reason why Mrs. Mary J. Pepin, like so many other mothers, always keeps Baby's Own Tablets ready at hand is because she has found them to be the safest, most convenient, agreeable and efficacious of all medicines for the common ills of her children.

Writes this American mother, who lives at No. 18 Cary Hill, Willimantic, Conn;—"I think Baby's Own Tablets one of the best laxatives I have ever given the children and they like to take them. When my little ones have colic I give them Baby's Own Tablets and they get relief at once. I would not be without the Tablets in the house for I have eleven children and the Tablets are my remedy to keep them in health."

Infants and little children need medicine specially made for them and this is exactly what Baby's Own Tablets are. These Tablets quickly reduce simple fevers, relieve indigestion, colic, croup and colds, prevent constipation, check diarrhoea, alleviate teething pains, expel worms, quickly bring sound health-restoring sleep in a natural way. Of chemists, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

There is no Satisfactory Substitute for Keds!

Keds are the standard by which all canvas rubber-soled shoes are judged. They make you proud of their appearance as well as enthusiastic about their comfort and wear.

Keds, of course, vary in price according to type. But no matter what kind of Keds you buy, every pair gives you the highest possible value at the price.

They're good-looking shoes, Keds. There's a cut and style to them that give your feet that trim look—yet, they're tough, springy and long wearing.

Your feet couldn't be cooler or more comfortable unless you wore sandals!

Remember—while there are other shoes that may at first glance look like Keds, no other shoes can give you Keds value. Keds are made only by the United States Rubber Company. If the name KEDS isn't on the shoes, they aren't real Keds.

Notice

In view of present events and to facilitate the work of the Police, it has been decided to form a Reserve Police Force in the French Concession.

Residents in the Concession—without regard to nationality—who are willing to join, are requested to send in their names, stating age and qualifications, to the French Consulate General.

Only in case of urgent necessity will a call be made on them, so as to avoid as far as possible, any interference with their own business.

The Reserve Police Force will be primarily engaged within the Concession and their principal duty will be to undertake patrol-work by day and by night.

They will be armed by the Municiplity with batons and revolvers and will wear a distinctive armlet.

GERMAN BANKER DOUBTS SUCCESS OF DAWES PLAN

Fears Economic 'Hitches'; Sees Shortcomings Of Treaty Set Right

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 11.—British, French and German representatives at the Institute of Politics made statements today on the Dawes reparations plan. All agreed it showed great ingenuity in dealing with the situation, but as to the success of its execution there appeared a difference of opinion.

Dr. Moritz Bonn, banker and German financial expert, spoke for Germany and Sir James Arthur Salter, head of the financial and economic section of the League of Nations, spoke for England. Dr. Bonn doubted that everything would work out as planned.

"We shall have hitches," he said, "but the hitches will be economic, not political."

M. Louis Aubert, an expert on a number of French official missions, urged that the plan be put in operation as quickly as possible.

BOYDEN ANSWERS CRITIC

Roland Boyden, former American representative on the Reparations Commission, said in answer to criticisms by Dr. Bonn of the political attitude of the Reparation Commission that it was true that the men around the reparations table with him had not always been able to act free from political considerations.

Major General Henry T. Allen asked for a further session in which the question could be discussed as to the operation of the Dawes plan and how Germany could make payments outside her own country without flooding the world markets with services or goods. He asked that each national speaker give his opinion on this issue. The discussion will take place tomorrow.

In his analysis of the Dawes plan, Sir Arthur Salter said in part:

"The committee had in reality a double task. They had to produce a technically practicable scheme adjusting reparation obligations to be adopted, to provide some 'bridges' between the opposing views which had resulted in the failure of previous negotiations. That the scheme has been accepted by the governments concerned is largely due to the ingenuity with which a 'bridge' was found for each 'gulf' of opinion which previously divided them.

"There were, I think, four such gulfs:

"(1) Total obligations. One side said it was necessary to fix at once the total obligation of Germany and the total period over which payments were to extend. Germany must 'see light at the end of the tunnel.' Without certainty and finality there could be no basis of confidence on which Germany could be encouraged to rebuild herself, on which German citizens could be expected to retain their capital in Germany or bring it back again, or on which the outside world could be expected to invest there. Without this the rebuilding of German economic life, an essential condition of her ability to pay considerable reparations, was impossible.

CALLED SETTLEMENT IMPOSSIBLE

"The other side said it was impossible to settle finally the total and the annual installments of one war debt except as part of a general settlement of all war debts.

"It was obvious that no such general settlement was possible immediately. Was, then, the whole reparation question to wait? Fortunately the committee found a bridge.

"The bridge was to propose a settlement not for all time, but for a 'considerable period.'

"(2) The index of prosperity. The second gulf was somewhat similar. One side said confidence and restoration were impossible if a commission composed of Allied representatives had the power to reconsider Germany's capacity and to increase the demands on her 'from time to time'; effort would be discouraged if any new increase in prosperity might to an indefinite extent be offset by increased reparation demands. Certainty again was essential.

"The other said that no one could estimate Germany's capacity for a large number of years ahead. An attempt to do so when she was in her greatest distress would inevitably lead to an underestimate.

"The committee agreed that reparation payments ought to increase with an increased prosperity.

EXAMINED GERMAN BUDGET

"(3) Capacity to pay in Germany; capacity to pay the Allies. One side estimated Germany's capacity to pay and examined her budget and the burden of her taxation as compared with that in Allied countries.

"The other side pointed out that reparation involved not merely payment by the taxpayer in marks, but payment abroad in foreign currency. This necessitated an equivalent export surplus. The limit therefore must be found by considering Germany's potential export surplus.

"The committee found a bridge by making a clear distinction between the taxpayers 'capacity to pay in Germany' and 'Germany's capacity to pay the Allies.'

"(4) Control. Last, there was perhaps the greatest gulf of all, the question of control. One side said 'To get reparations you must rely on good will and financial inducements.' The other side said experience showed this to be insufficient. Control was necessary.

REVENUE CONTROL PLANNED

"The bridge found was to base the scheme on the assumption that 'economic activity will be unhampered and unaffected by any foreign organisation other than the controls herein provided and to arrange a special control of certain assigned revenues, customs, tobacco, railroads, etc.'

"Stabilisation. In addition to dealing with the reparation difficulties by finding bridges for these four gulfs, the committee has also the task of laying down the essential conditions of German financial rehabilitation and stability.

"The scheme at once stopped the process of inflation and depreciation. This new policy is secured by the foundation of a new bank of issue; makes it permanently possible by providing a stably balanced budget; and fortifies the whole process by an external loan secured by the proceeds of the assigned and controlled revenues. In all these respects the method is the same as that adopted for Austria and Hungary by the League of Nations."

NOTES TREATY'S FAILURES

Dr. Bonn said that no just appreciation of the Dawes report is possible without realising distinctly the chief shortcomings of the treaty of peace as far as finance is concerned. They were four. First the treaty of peace did not fix Germany's total liabilities. Second, there was no moratorium granted. Third, the execution of many of the financial conditions was put into the hands of private individuals. Fourth, the Reparation Commission, which was to be an independent impartial tribunal, was diverted from its object, partly by America's refusal to participate in it and partly by the political use to which it had been put. These four points have to some degree been set right by the Dawes report, he said.

Continuing his examination of the documents on the causes of the World War Professor Sidney B. Fay pointed out that the British Blue Book and French Yellow Book of 1914, were more complete and reliable than the similar colored books of other powers.

STATE'S BONUS TO BE ALL PAID BY END OF YEAR

$10,000,000 In Checks So Far Sent Out; Large Staff On The Job

Albany, August 15.—The last of the survivors of the 518,864 men and women of New York States who saw service in the World War and who apply for the state bonus will receive it toward the end of December. This is the statement of the men who are charged with distributing the state's bonus to the veterans, and who have been at their task since last May.

At 5 o'clock tonight claimants for the state bonus aggregated 317,778. At the same hour the number of veterans who had received their bonus or whose checks were in the mail was 82,218, or about one in every four claimants.

$30,000,000 YET TO BE PAID

These 82,218 checks represented $10,064,778, leaving more than $30,000,000 to be paid, $45,000,000 having been appropriated.

While Captain Frank S. Harris's force in the state bonus bureau admittedly was inadequate up to a month ago, it has been nearly trebled, with the result that for the last four days the mail has been opened and attended to as it arrived.

But with 200 to 400 claims coming in daily, and with about 235,000 claims still unpaid, Captain Harris and his assistants concede there is bound to be some grumbling, as many veterans have not received cards yet acknowledging the receipt of their bonus applications.

Captain Louis Clark, who organized the system, which now is being operated by nearly 180 clerks and examiners, said they had sent out 2,250 checks daily in the last two weeks.

3,000 CHECKS DAILY IS GOAL

"Beginning Monday," said Captain Clark, "we will speed up the distribution of checks to 2,500 daily, and with the present force—we cannot very well handle a larger force in these quarters—we hope to increase the forwarding of checks to 3,000 a day within another week."

During the last month the employees, originally seventy-eight, have been working day and night shifts, with volunteers from other state departments. When the suggestion was made that it might be possible to dispose of all the pending claims within a month by calling for volunteers from the Red Cross and similar organisations which did work during the war, every one in the bureau who heard it frowned on it.

The experience of those in charge of the bureau was that volunteer help, even the best, is not so good as those who are on the state bonus bureau pay roll. Those who have volunteered to work and have worked—all state employees—did so without pay.

VETERANS' CHIEF PRAISES WORK

While The New York Herald Tribune correspondent was inspecting the work of the bureau, Peter J. Murphy, of Troy, senior vice-commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, called on a similar errand.

"Of course," said Mr. Murphy, "there are bound to be kickers. in my opinion Captain Harris and his men are to be congratulated."

Although a large number of applications have to be returned for correction because of errors made in filling out the blanks, the number of checks returned because of wrong addresses is small.

There have not been more than a dozen attempts at fraud and these were detected readily. It is estimated that of the total number of men and women from this state who saw service in the World War, 30,000 have died, leaving 488,000 living who are entitled to the bonus. But although application blanks have been available since May, up to tonight, nearly 170,000 veterans eligible for the state's token of $10 for each month of service with a maximum of $150, have made no effort to collect.

Veteran's are behind a bill which will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature permitting the next of kin of the 30,000 dead to obtain the bonus.

New Port Planned For San Francisco

San Francisco, August 6.—The water front of San Francisco will be extended twenty miles beyond its present limits for the development of a great industrial section, if the United States Government approves plans for dredging a deep water ship canal south from Hunter's Point, in San Francisco, to Ravenswood in San Mateo country. The project is being pushed not only by San Francisco but by every city and district for fifty miles down the peninsula to San Jose.

Besides dredging a channel it is planned to reclaim 20,000 acres of tidelands for industrial sites. The land would be reclaimed through use of the dredged earth.

Government aid has been asked only for the channel. The reclamation and wharfage improvements are to be undertaken by private interests, together with the State and the counties involved. The entire project will involve many millions of dollars.

San Francisco has a water front that is owned and operated by the public. Title to the property is in the State of California and harbor affairs are administered by a board of three harbor commissioners.

The city at present has fifteen miles of berthing space for vessels, with 5,000,000 square feet of cargo area. The new facilities are intended to increase the harbor space to more than double and to provide a vast number of potential factory sites.

Weather Reports

Sept. 15.—The depression takes to the sea near the Hangchow Bay and advances towards NE. Two anticyclones, the one in Manchuria, the other over Nippon. N to NE winds along the N coast. Hard cyclonic circulation and rough weather in the depression. Variable breezes and local calms in the south. Intermittent showers, all day, at Shanghai. Fine weather in N China. Fog in Kwangtung and Tongking.

Sept. 16.—Cooler weather; the sky clears up during the night. Fresh breezes playing between NNE and NNW. The pressure rises and the depression moves away at sea towards Kiusiu.

Sept. 17.—Weather cloudy, cooler and probably fine. Rough weather between Kiusiu and the Loochoos. Northerly winds on the Yellow Sea, and in Shantung. Variable breezes in the South. A minimum is apparently forming or approaching to the South-East of the Loochoos.

Where Did China Get All The Ammunition?

DOWN at the little town of Liuho where the hardest kind of fighting has now been in progress for practically two weeks, there is located a battery of field guns. There are five guns in the battery and according to Colonel Chang, who has charge of the Chekiang forces at Liuho, each of these guns is fired sixty times a day. Therefore the total number of shots fired is three hundred during each 24 hours. The cost of each shell ranges from thirteen to seventeen taels.

The guns which make up this battery are all of foreign make and the ammunition which the Chekiang troops are hurling at their brothers of Kiangsu is the same kind of ammunition and bears the same brands which were used in the European War on the Western front. We have no idea in the world how much ammunition has been used already in this war and we doubt whether the Chinese themselves know either, but it has been enormous. One man pretty close to the Chekiang side said that the war was costing about $100,000 a day for the Chekiang side alone. It is therefore quite possible that the cost on the Kiangsu side is much greater because they are operating further away from their base than are the Chekiang forces.

Now to turn aside for a moment, it would be interesting for one to look over the records of the various foreign courts and the International Mixed Court here and make a tabulation of the cases which have been up wherein someone was being prosecuted for arms smuggling. The newspaper files of course will show that there have been numerous individual convictions and one or two more or less sensational cases, but when we go out to Liuho and to Huangtu and the other places where the Chinese rival militarists are hurling death and destruction at each other using foreign made guns and foreign manufactured ammunition, we can't help but smile at the efforts which have been made by the foreign authorities here to suppress arms smuggling. We have gotten badly agitated because a sailor from an American, British, French, Italian or Japanese ship tried to earn a little easy money by slipping through the customs with a revolver and a few rounds of ammunition in his pockets hoping to sell them to some Chinese robber or peace-disturber. But while doing this we have permitted the big fish to get through with mountain guns, "75's," airplanes, and even armored cars. We have strained at the isolated case of the individual sailor and have prosecuted him most vigorously, but we have ignored the shiploads of heavy artillery and tens of thousands of service rifles and tons of munitions which have been coming in.

That's the sorry story of the attempt of the Powers and of China to place an embargo upon the importation of munitions into this country!

When we sit in Shanghai and read the daily accounts of the fighting at the front and on occasion when we actually hear the rumbles of the guns a few miles away across the rice-paddies of Kiangsu, we are likely to become extreme skeptical of the doings of men—especially when we turn to the records of the Washington Conference and find many pages of stenographic notes referring to the proceedings of that body on the subject of an arms embargo for China.

Dr. W. W. Willoughby in his report on "China at the Conference," says.

"As is well known the exportation of arms and ammunition to China by the Powers has, for a number of years, been a matter which has given concern to all the parties involved by reason of the fact that these arms and munitions have, to a considerable extent, found their way into the possession of bands of bandits operating in China, or have served to keep active the civil warfare which has prevailed in that country. In May, 1919, a diplomatic agreement, the purpose of which was to restrain this traffic, was arrived at but without completely satisfactory results. On January 22, 1922, a Resolution was approved by the President of the United States which had been adopted by Congress which provided that whenever the President should find that in any American country or in any country in which the United States exercised extraterritorial jurisdiction conditions of violence which would be promoted by the use of arms and munitions if procured from the United States, he should make proclamation of the fact and declare it unlawful to export, except under such limitations as he might prescribe any arms or munitions of war from the United States to that country.

"At the twenty-fifth meeting of the Committee of the Whole of the Washington Conference, held January 24, Mr. Balfour proposed for adoption the following resolution:

'The United States of America, Belgium, the British Empire, France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands and Portugal affirm their intention to refrain themselves and to restrain their nationals from exporting to China, arms, munitions of war, or material destined exclusively for their manufacture, until the establishment of a government whose authority is recognised throughout the whole country.

'Each of the above powers will forthwith take such additional steps as may be necessary to make the above restrictions immediately binding upon all its nationals.

'The scope of this resolution includes all concessions, settlements, and leased territories in China.

'The United States of America will invite the adherence to this resolution of the other powers in treaty relations with China.' "

In the discussion which followed the introduction of this resolution by Mr. Balfour of the British Delegation to the Washington Conference, Senator Schanzer of the Italian delegation said that while in sympathy with it he was not in a position to vote favorably on account of a number of prior contracts which had not yet been executed by his nationals in China. Mr. Jonkeer Beelaerts of the Belgian Delegation also said that it would be necessary to consult his home government before replying and Baron Shidehara of the Japanese delegation said that so long as the Japanese were in occupation of Port Arthur that it would be impossible for Japan to agree to restrict the dispatch of arms thither. The resolution was then amended and in the ensuing discussions the Netherlands, French and Italian delegations announced their agreement but at the twenty-ninth meeting of the Committee, Mr. Hanihara of the Japanese Government stated that if the Italians still insisted upon their position in respect to filling unexpired contracts, that Japan would also be forced to make reservations. The Italians however at this point stated that they "were unable to say whether, according to instructions from their Government which were not explicit, by insisting upon its reservation of May, 1919, the Italian Government meant to save the right upon the part of its nationals to execute all contracts for the delivery of arms to China up to the present time, or whether only those contracts which had been entered into prior to May, 1919, were to be allowed to be executed."

Since the Conference was then coming to a close, it was impossible to get unanimous action and the whole resolution was withdrawn. The result of the matter was that from the standpoint of the Washington Conference nothing was done to limit the exportation of arms to China. Both the United States and Great Britain have themselves adopted self-denying ordinances in respect to the shipment of arms to China, but outside of a resolution agreed upon by the Diplomatic Corps in Peking in 1919, no one else is bound to limit such importation and sales.

The trouble with the whole matter is that two important countries were not parties either to the action of the Peking Diplomatic Corps in 1919 or the attempted action at the Washington Conference. These countries are Germany and Russia both of which without question have been bringing arms to China in large quantities. From their own standpoints, these countries are strictly within their legal rights to sell all of the munitions of war to the Chinese Government or any faction in China, that they can get paid for. From a moral standpoint a great deal might be said, but moral or paper doctrines do not carry much weight in circumstances such as these.

The general effect of the whole attempt of the United States and Great Britain in this respect has been to restrain the nationals of these two countries from participating in the arms business in China—and in consequence to leave the field open for other nationals. From a moral standpoint this is of course highly desirable, but from a practical standpoint of preventing the importation of arms and munitions into China the actions of the United States and Great Britain have been of no avail whatsoever.

A Mischievous Manifesto

A MORE interesting and significant screed could scarcely be conceived than the infammatory handbill distributed a few days ago in the vicinity of the Chienmen Railway Station in Peking and throughout the Legation Quarter by Chinese radicals in a motor car apparently as part of the "Humilitation Day" program in the capital. The first thought suggested by this singular anti-foreign tirade, the text of which was published in THE CHINA PRESS last Sunday, is that the effusion is perceptibly tinged with a hue that indicates Bolshevik origin and is quite obviously designed to create trouble between Chinese and foreigners. And there is also the possibility that certain officials may have connived at the circulation of such handbills by way of diverting the attention of the Chinese people from present political events in China to the foreigners, precisely in the manner of the late Empress Dowager of China, who, eager to stay the fury of the people at the repeated misdeeds of the Manchus, adroitly diverted the national wrath along anti-foreign channels, which was the immediate cause of the Boxer uprising. Perhaps we are now witnessing a repetition of history.

To deal with the charges item by item, the opening shot of the broadside reads: "We Chinese citizens apply to you foreign diplomats and citizens and warn you that the Chinese people cannot tolerate any further act of violence and insult of your Governments." What violence and insults is the mysterious author of the handbill alluding to? Right now the most outstanding act of violence we can think of is being perpetrated by Chinese militarists upon their own people, who are flocking to the Settlements of the much maligned foreigner for refuge, and as for insults, it seems to us that the proclamations put out by China's warlords by way of justifying the present war constitute an insult to the intelligence of the people of China. The handbill proceeds: "Our patience has come to an end. Woe to you if you will not awake in time and not give up predatory treaties which strangle China." It were far better and infinitely more patriotic on the part of the sponsors of the handbill to threaten woe to the various "Governments" in China—we believe there are eighteen or twenty of them, about one to every province—if they will not awake in time from their moral torpor before the people rise as one man and rend them. It is true that many of the treaties are oppressive, but the inordinate ambitions of the militarists certainly are more oppressive. Many of the treaties which have forced modernisation of Government departments have conferred untold benefits upon China, and the Washington Conference treaties are generally defended by intelligent Chinese.

The author of the Humiliation Day proclamation demands foreign obedience to the laws of China. Wherein have those laws been transgressed by foreigners? On the contrary, the militarists of China are the biggest lawbreakers in the country since they have proved false to their solemn oath to protect the people and have violated the Constitution. Then we are asked to agree to retrocession of the foreign Concessions in Shanghai, Tientsin and other places. If this were really done, it would right now deprive Chinese refugees of their last place of shelter and it would also incidentally close to the families of the Chinese militarists themselves the only safe asylum in times of turmoil and disorder such as the present. "Stop robbing our Customs revenues," continues the manifesto. The answer to that is: the Customs and salt administrations in China have been the two bright spots in a country where provincial officials feel at liberty to seize public revenues for their own ends. The Powers are accused of strangling with their Customs tariff China's young industry, but it is an open secret that the desired tariff increase would have been granted by the Powers long ago but for a justifiable fear that the additional revenues thus obtained might not, after all, be utilised to the best interests of the nation. The manifesto continues: Remove your troops from Peking. If you are not thieves and robbers, what reason have you to fear the Chinee people?" It is not the Chinese people that foreigners fear, but the unruly soldiery who oppress Chinese and foreigners alike. They are the real culprits who snatch from the Chinese people their patrimony.

The plum of the manifesto is reserved for the last: "Either stop the policy of violence and give up the Treaty of 1901 or the high walls of the Legation Quarter and the troops will not keep you safe." The threat fits the militarists of China like a cap. Unless they dethrone violence and set up the rule of reason, they are probably fated to discover that their big guns and the bayonets of their troops will not ultimately save them from the eventual destiny of all despots. The Bolshevik origin of the manifesto is quite apparent.

EXCERPTS FROM GREAT WRITERS

By Mathy

GREAT LOVE AND MUCH SERVICE

It is the commonest things in the world that most need definition.

There are certain vital subjects the mind handles every day, indeed must handle because they are as essential to thought as bread and water to the body; and by much handling these subjects become smooth as old coins. Once in a while it is well to examine them minutely to see what "image and superscription" is thereon.

Nothing is more constantly spoken of than happiness. It is the end of religion, the object of philosophy, the dream of the wretched, the quest of the whole world.

BUT WHAT IS IT?

Suppose we ask ourselves that? And suppose we patiently and honestly try to find an answer? If we discover what happiness is, or at least what it means to us, we have gone a long way toward grasping happiness, the thing itself.

And just to stimulate your inquiry, allow me to hand to you a definition I read the other day, I know not where. It is this:

HAPPINESS IS GREAT LOVE AND MUCH SERVICE.

If you will look about carefully among the people you know, not neglecting yourself, you will discover that not one of them is happy that does not love. Furthermore that all of them are happy, in proportion as they love.

Happiness is the perfume of the rose of love, the light shining from the candle of love, the sound from the bells of love.

You can get a certain something that resembles happiness from the gratification of desire, from eating, drinking, playing, and the like. But it all has in itself the seed of boredom. You get SATED from satisfying appetite; but in the happiness that comes from love is no satiety.

What is true of love is equally true of service; because to love is to serve.

Search again among the people you know, and note that they are happy in proportion as they serve.

The great mass of men and women are reasonably content because they are at work.

They often complain of their work. They even call labor a curse. But they would be miserable without it.

They dream of a life of idleness and self-indulgence, and many imagine that is heaven. It is not. It is hell.

This world was made for lovers and for servants.

If any one's heart is full of love, and his hand full of service, he has no morbid "problems." He has solved the riddle of life.

Correspondence

IMMIGRATION VISAS

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS.

Sir: There is a notice from the American Consulate in Shanghai about the enrolment of aliens for immigration visas. As "the Russian quota is not sufficiently large to cover any persons of Russian birth," says the American Consul, so I should like to tell you that the number of Russians want to go to America, but a great many of them have no money enough to pay for passage and no check of Mex. $100 to declare as the Immigration Laws require, and they are trying to get visas—"on all occasions." Therefore, the others, who desire to go there now and have necessary sums of money to pay for fare, will be left without visas, on account of exhaustion of them, and forced to stay in China again, having no work to do. It seems to me to be very important and I should like to hope that the American Consulate would make a note of it and grant visas to persons, who are really desirous and able to enter the United States now.

The Small Gaby Bow Gives Smart New Touch to Felt Hat Bought Earlier in the Season

Some women are born with an innate knack for trimming and bedecking their own hats. If they buy their hats all ready trimmed it is ten to one they will rearrange the trimming as the milliner adjusted it, before they have worn the hat three times.

These women who have a knack at arranging their hats are perhaps the true coquettes. The South Sea Island belle has an innate knowledge of the most becoming and provocative way to arrange her wreath of flowers, the dark-skinned West Indian charmer knows the most coquettish way to tie the ends of her Madras head covering, and Spanish Carmen was many times more charming because she knew the most flirtatious way to arrange her lace mantilla and her high-backed comb.

It is the world-old and world-wide heritage of the coquettish woman. So how can we expect the coquette of today to leave the arrangement of the trimming of her hats always to the milliner?

For the one possessing this natural knack for arranging and rearranging the trimming on one's hats it is often a clever idea at this time of year to rip off old trimming and add new to the hats already on hand. The hat itself always remains in good condition longer than the trimming, and often it is by some unusual trimming that a hat is known.

The Gaby bow tied on the top of a small round-crowned hat is a clever device to rejuvinate a hat bought earlier in the season. The sketch shows a gray felt hat piped with blue ribbon and trimmed with a tiny Gaby bow of the ribbon at the top. Small bird heads, and bird devices made from pasted feathers, likewise birds cleverly made from braid and ribbon, are among the newer trimmings Coeque feathers—especially in contrasting colors—are good midsummer trimmings. Cut-outs of suede and other leather, sewed flat on the hat by means of metal threads, are smart and serviceable.

Fatigue—

THE mental and physical depression caused by one day's routine after the other wears down your vitality, leaving you listless and tired. If you are rundown and tired out, if periodically your back feels as though it could not bear the strain of one more day at the office desk, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Take it regularly and faithfully, and you will find a new interest in your work, and a zest and joy in your holidays that you have been missing.

For many years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been helping girls and women to carry on through the period of depression and weariness.

"I learned about your medicine from persons who have taken it and they induced me to take it. I was troubled with pains and loss of energy, sleeplessness, headaches and no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I have been much better and I tell my friends about it. You may use this letter."

WISE AND OTHERWISE

FORTUNE IN SAND

You can have quite a bit of fun telling beach fortunes by means of a sort of sand ouija board, providing of course no one takes it too seriously. You should have a tray or heavy box cover so arranged that you can fill it with sand to the depth of an inch. You will also need a heavy pencil or a stick about the length of a pencil. The one who wishes to consult the oracle should sit before the sand board holding the pencil, resting the wrist on the edge of the tray. He or she should then concentrate on some wish or question, being told to hold the pencil firmly in the hand and to allow the hand to move slightly when it can no longer be held quietly. Eventually the pencil will begin to move and it is from these movements that the sand fortune teller makes her predictions.

Watch the first mark made in the sand. If it resembles a 'y' the wish is coming true. If it resembles nearly an 'n', then the wish is not coming true. If the hand makes a number of little jerky dabs on the sand, change is indicated. A deep heavy line means a journey. A short deep line means an unexpected visitor. A small circle means a marriage or engagement. A mark resembling wings may be interpreted to mean an aeroplane or soaring ambition. And so the fortune teller with a little ingenuity can make out quite a fortune from the various marks made in the dish of sand.

WITH LEMON

Lemon Jelly

Two tablespoons granulated gelatin, one-half cup cold water, two to two and one-half cups boiling water, one cup sugar, one-half cup lemon juice, and one lemon Soak gelatin 20 minutes in cold water, then dissolve in boiling water. Add sugar, the lemon juice and rind; strain into a mold and chill. Beating the lemon jelly while it is jelly-like with a Dover egg beater will make it white and fluffy. Orange, raspberry or other fruit jelly may be made in the same way, using one-half cup of the fruit juice with lemon juice to taste.

Lemon Tarts

Bring to the boil one cupful of sugar, two heaping tablespoonfuls of butter, three eggs well-beaten, and the grated rind and juice of a large lemon. Cook slowly while stirring until the mixture is the consistency of honey, cool, fill tart shells, and cover with meringue or whipped cream.

Once Overs

BY J. J. MUNDY

Said a woman recently: "The greatest pleasure I get out of life is the feeling that I have been permitted to fill a breach."

Merely to be the one who helps out in an emergency, she meant.

What is your attitude in this particular?

Are you willing to be the one who helps out, or are you indignant if you are not called upon at the very first in everything.

Can you imagine any more kindly feelings than those held for the person who never falls in an emergency.

Have you the mental and the moral stamina to fill in when others fail?

Just think of the persons who are struggling for success in one thing or another and who would fall short of the goal if it were not for some one to take up the broken threads, the weakened arms and the weary hearts at the last.

To be the bridge upon which another may walk across in safety is the greatest of joys.

Have you ever tried to experience the satisfaction arising from just such circumstances?

If not, get your heart and mind into the spirit and you may find the opportunity at your very door.

PLAY ADVERTISING TO THE LIMIT.

Every cent spent for advertising is an investment, wise or otherwise, according to the manner of its handling. The one who regards advertising as an expense will probably do very poor advertising. It means poor business. Advertising carries tremendous responsibilities, as it is supposed to be self-supporting and to stand sponsor for the upkeep of your selling departments. It is your direct message to consumers, and it is not sufficient to acquaint an eager public with the fact that you have something to sell: it is our duty to state why your merchandise and service should be selected in preference to that of contemporary and competitive concerns. If you have a strong point, let us play it, for you, to the limit in the CHINESE TRADERS' DIARY. We have no fear that we can scar it upon the public eye, ear and memory.

Studebaker Standards

EVERY detail entering into the construction of Studebaker cars is governed by unusually high standards.

Raw materials are carefully selected according to rigid specifications—and later tested in our own laboratories to make sure that they measure-up to Studebaker standards.

The character of workmanship employed corresponds to the quality of materials used. To ensure that every operation is performed correctly, Studebaker cars are subjected to a total of 32,000 inspections.

Thus, from beginning to end the standards regulating the manufacture of Studebaker cars are rigidly maintained.

For 72 years, fine quality has characterized the manufacture of Studebaker products.
